T. DeWitt Talmage, D.D., writes: "When I rise from reading it there are sermons on the tips of my fingers, sermons in my mouth, sermons on my eyebrows—head full, and heart full of sermons. . . . The Homiletic Review points out new gold mines where we can dig for ourselves."

Philip Schaff, D.D., writes: "It is the best periodical I know of its kind. One need only look at the variety of contents and the names of writers, including some of the ablest American and foreign pulpit orators and divines, to be convinced of its practical value. . . ."

Subscription, $3.00 per year; to clergymen and theological students, in advance, $2.50; single numbers, 30 cents. The Homiletic Review and The Missionary Review of the World together, one year, $4.00. Each number contains 80 large octavo pages.

Editorial Staff: Editor-in-Chief, ARTHUR T. PIERSON, D.D.; Associate Editors, J. T. Gracey, D.D., President of the "International Missionary Union," Rochester, N. Y.; A. J. Gordon, D.D., Boston, Mass.; D. L. Leonard, D.D.; C. C. Starbuck, D.D.

The Rock, London, says: "'The Missionary Review of the World' has its circulation both in America and England, and is the only complete current review of missionary operations and missionary problems in connection with all protestant agencies all the world over.'

THE VOICE.

The Voice is a weekly newspaper of 48 columns, published every Thursday. Subscription, one dollar per year, with premium for new annual subscribers.

ITS CONTENTS TOLD BY OTHERS.

The Southwest (a liquor paper): "The Voice is the most dangerous Prohibition paper published in this country."

I. H. Seelye, Pres. Amherst College: "The Voice is invaluable for the proper understanding of the current temperance movement."

Rochester Morning Herald: "The Voice is the best edited and most thorough journal of its class ever printed in this country."

Lyman Abbott, D.D. (Pastor of Plymouth, Henry Ward Beecher's Church): "The Voice is a very valuable mine of information."

Religious Telescope, Hartford: "The Voice is the keenest and most consistent temperance and Prohibition paper ever published."

Ex-Judge Noah Davis: "I have been a reader of The Voice for many months. I wish to bear testimony to its great merits as a temperance newspaper. It is conducted with remarkable energy and ability, and its weekly collations of statistical temperance information have never been surpassed."

Benson J. Lossing, LL.D. (the distinguished historian, shortly before his death): "The Voice is entitled to rank among the best family newspapers in the land. Its corps of able, trained editors and assistants present, in admirably condensed form, in every issue, not only the most important current news at home and abroad, but terse essays upon almost every topic of interest to readers of every class—literature, art, science, history, biography and fiction.

Notable, also, are its weekly report of the industrial unrest of all nations, together with reports of remedial efforts, and timely symposiums from leaders of sociological thought. "The truth is," said Samuel Gompers, "The Voice is presenting the most reliable labor news obtainable in New York City."

FUNK & WAGNALLS COMPANY, Publishers, 18 and 20 Astor Place, New York.

IN RAPID PREPARATION.

FUNK & WAGNALLS'

Standard Dictionary

OF THE ENGLISH LANGUAGE

Will embody many new principles in lexicography; will contain over 2,200 pages, large quarto; nearly 5,000 illustrations made especially for it; over 280,000 words; 50,000 more words than in any other dictionary of the language.

Price, when Issued, Sheep, $12.00, in One Vol.; in Two Vols., $15.00

FOR A FAIR IDEA OF THE IMPORTANCE OF THIS DICTIONARY, SEND TWENTY-FIVE CENTS FOR A COPY OF THE LATEST PROSPECTUS, SAMPLE PAGES, TESTIMONIALS FROM REPRESENTATIVE SOURCES ETC., NOW READY.

WHAT IT WILL BE.

"It will be a rival of the best Dictionaries."—The Boston Journal of Education.

"I do not hesitate to say it will be the completest single-volume Dictionary of the English language."—J. W. BASHFORD, D.D., President of the Ohio Wesleyan University.

"Of the two dictionaries, the revision of Webster and your work, your plan is the better one, and will better meet existing needs. . . . It will be the English People's Word Book."—THEO. W. HUNT, Professor of Rhetoric and English Literature at Princeton.

"It will be for at least a generation what its name implies, the Standard Dictionary of our language."—Lapeer County (Mich.) Democrat.

WHY?

Because it will embody many new important principles in lexicography. (These are described in the Prospectus referred to above. (It will contain nearly 2,200 9 x 12 pages; over 4,000 illustrations made especially for it; a large and valuable appendix; over 200,000 words.

Among the many features of improvement to be found in the Standard Dictionary over all previous dictionaries are the following:

1. In disputed pronunciations the pronunciations preferred by other leading dictionaries are also indicated in connection with the vocabulary word.
2. Every quotation is located, i. e., volume and page are given.
3. The etymology is placed after the definition.
4. The most common meaning is given first.
5. The work will contain all the words to be found in the latest Worcester, Webster, Stormonth, and Johnson, and nearly 100,000 more words than in any other single-volume dictionary.
6. The Scientific Alphabet of the American Philological Association is used in giving the pronunciation of words.
7. Words that have a special denominational or class meaning are in all cases to be defined by persons representative of the denomination or class to which they belong.

This work bristles with other points of advantage, some of which are, perhaps, of more value and importance to the reader than any of the above.

ITS STAFF OF MORE THAN TWO HUNDRED EDITORS.

Its more than two hundred editors are selected from among the best-known of American and English scholars; each is an acknowledged authority in his particular sphere of learning, including experts in the different branches of the arts and sciences, and in the different trades, etc. (See Prospectus referred to above.)

ANDERSON—AMERICA NOT DISCOVERED BY COLUMBUS.—An Historical Sketch of the Discovery of America by the Norsemen in the Tenth Century, by Hon. R. B. ANDERSON; also, a Bibliography of the Pre-Columbian Discoveries of America, by PAUL BARRON WATSON. Fourth Edition, enlarged, cloth $1.00

"A valuable addition to American History. . . . The book is full of surprising statements, and will be read with something like wonderment."—Notes and Queries, London.

ANDERSON—NORSE MYTHOLOGY; or, the Religion of our Forefathers.—Containing all the Myths of the Eddas carefully systematized and interpreted, with an Introduction, Vocabulary, and Index, by Hon. RASMUS B. ANDERSON, Ex-United States Minister to Denmark. Fifth Edition. Crown, 8vo, cloth 2.50

This great work has had the honor of translation into French, Danish, and Italian, and has been awarded the highest praise by the press of Scandinavia, France, Germany and Italy.

"The volume is rich in poems from the Eddas and the myths are as wonderful, as fantastic, as exciting as any of the Greek fables, and have the additional elements of ice and frost to enhance their wildness and mystery."—H. W. Longfellow.

ANDERSON—VIKING TALES OF THE NORTH.—The Sagas of Thorstein, Viking's Son, and Fridthjof the Bold. From the Icelandic, by R. B. ANDERSON, A.M., Honorary Member of the Icelandic Literary Society; also TEGNÉR'S FRIDTHJOF'S SAGA, translated by GEORGE STEPHENS. Third Edition, cloth 2.00

"Prof. Anderson's book is a very valuable and important one. The Saga of Thorstein, Viking's Son, teems with magnificently dramatic situations, the impressiveness of which are rather increased by the calm directness and dignity with which they are related; and these features are as characteristic of the English version as of the Icelandic originals. The translator shows an intimate acquaintance with all the intricacies of that cruelly inflected language, and an enthusiastic appreciation of its epigrammatic pith and vigor."—The Nation, N. Y.

"Any one who will attentively study this book will certainly have gone a long way in his preparation for thoughtful and intelligent art criticism."—New York Tribune.

"It furnishes precisely what all lovers of art who are not themselves either artists or trained critics need. It teaches the reader what to admire and what to condemn, by teaching him why some things in art are admirable, and others are not. It educates the art nstinct."—New York Evening Post.

BREDIF—DEMOSTHENES; POLITICAL ELOQUENCE IN GREECE.—With Extracts from his Orations and a Critical Discussion of the "Trial on the Crown," by L. BREDIF, of the University of France. Translated by M. J. MACMAHON, A. M. Octavo, cloth, gilt top 2.50

A most complete and painstaking accompaniment of chronological tables, genealogies, and memoranda gives the work peculiar value. It is indeed a concise compendium of the history of England and its people."—Christian Advocate, New York.

BRYANT—THE WORLD ENERGY AND ITS SELF-CONSERVATION.—By WILLIAM M. BRYANT, Author of "The Philosophy of Art," etc. Cloth 1.50

An examination of the constitution of nature and of man's place in it, showing the common ground and essential unity of the speculative and empirical methods of inquiry, and leading logically to the conclusion that nature is not something apart from mind, but that it is nothing else than the outer mode of, and hence hàs its only truth in, Mind.

"Certainly worthy of careful study. It presents the Theistic argument from a new standpoint."—The Christian Union, New York.

"Judging by the mere words of the title one cannot know the grand scope of the book. It seems to us of the highest and most far reaching importance. There is exactitude in every thought, clearness in every bit of proof, and a manifest desire to join successive links in such a manner that the truth shall be as evident to his readers as to the author. The deepest thinkers on spiritual and scientific truths are referred to, quoted, and explained, and no reader who is alive in any degree to the 'practical' nature of absolute spiritual truth can read 'The World Energy and its Self-Conservation' other than with heart-felt pleasure, and deep, individual benefit. The book fills a great need of this age, and the man capable of writing it proves the grandeur of his logical, spiritual understanding by its adequate realization in explicit expression."—The Boston Times.

BRYANT—A SYLLABUS OF PSYCHOLOGY.—By WILLIAM M. BRYANT. Paper. Second Edition ..... $ .25

"The most immature student will not find it difficult to grasp the propositions laid down, and the Syllabus gives an entirely adequate outline of the fundamentals of psychology. The list of books given at the close is brief, but forms a sufficient and admirable course of study."—New York Evangelist.

BRYANT—ETERNITY.—A Thread in the Weaving of a Life.—By WILLIAM M. BRYANT. Paper ..... .25

"This essay is the work of a thoughtful man and a scholar. It is well conceived and finely written."—The Presbyterian, Philadelphia.

BURRIS—THE TRINITY.—By Rev. F. H. BURRIS. Cloth 1.25

"The author's reasoning is cogent, his command and handling of evidence able, and his manner calm and candid. The chapters on the testimonies of Christ, Paul, and John are full of substantial matter."—Literary World, Boston.

DE MOTTE—THE SECRET OF CHARACTER BUILDING.—By JOHN B. DE MOTTE, A.M., Ph.D. Cloth. Finely Illustrated 1.00

Character is the result of the impressions made upon the nervous system during the period of its growth and development, and so has a physical basis. The brain and nerves of a child are as unformed and plastic as the wax cylinder of the phonograph, upon which are shaped articulate words by waves of sound. The cylinder, once made, always reproduces what is written upon it. In like manner, the nervous system of the child is molded by the waves of energy that proceed from things seen, heard, felt, tasted; by ideas, social conditions, etc., and responds in right feelings, thoughts, and conduct if the influences have been good, and wrong ones if they have been bad. These facts being known, the secret of building character is revealed. "As the twig is bent the tree's inclined." How best to bend the twig is discussed in this book.

"Dr. De Motte's volume ought to be put into the hands of such persons as are inclined to trust to luck or inspiration in character formation. The author wisely and clearly forces upon our attention the fact of the physical basis of character, and the necessity of forming right habits of nerve reaction. The little book is calculated to make a good many people think. It will be of special service to young people inclined to sentimental views of goodness."—Review of Reviews, New York.

"In suggestiveness and high moral impulse this little monograph is worth a dozen volumes of ethical philosophy to most men. We trust it may be widely read and studiously pondered."—Church Standard, Philadelphia.

DUDLEY—POETRY AND PHILOSOPHY OF GOETHE.—Edited by MARION V. DUDLEY. Cloth 1.50

"We have read many works on Goethe, but never one which has thrown so much light upon his character, philosophy, and poetry as this volume. The many sides from which he is reviewed, the familiar character of the discussions, often colloquial, and those conducted by specialists in the study of his writings, furnish the reader with a mass of information of profound interest and rare value. The discussions contain a freshness and force, a flavor and freedom which awakens and retains the attention of the reader. To any one who would understand Goethe as a man, thinker, and writer, we commend this volume as the best with which we are acquainted."—The National Baptist, Philadelphia.

FORESTIER—ECHOES FROM MIST-LAND; or, The Nibelungen Lay Revealed to Lovers of Romance and Chivalry. By AUBER FORESTIER. Cloth 1.25

A tale that echoes back from the misty ages the clash of arms and the strife of passion which characterized the early period of German history, and at the same time full of pathos, high resolve, and pure and tender love strains.

Auber Forestier has retold the tale in a style which all lovers of romance and chivalry may enjoy. The simplicity and directness of the ancient chronicle are admirably preserved in the version and the work forms a unique addition to our store of sterling fiction."—Home Journal, New York.

WHAT IS SAID OF THE SERIES.

"The publication of these works is like the opening of a gold mine, the unsealing of vast treasures to thousands of theological and philosophical students in America. Neither in England nor in this country has there ever at one time been opened such signal opportunity for the enlargement of the area of one's thinking."—Western Christian Advocate, Cincinnati.

"A most important service to the cause of Philosophy in this country is being done by this series of Philosophical Classics."—The Critic, N. Y.

"Certainly the most ambitious enterprise America has yet attempted in philosophy, and the most important contribution that has been made to our knowledge of the greatest philosophic movement in the world's history."—Chicago Tribune.

"It says much for the progress of philosophical study in America, that in a city only fifty years old, should be projected and so successfully prosecuted this philosophical series which would do credit to the press of Leipsic or Oxford."—Canadian Methodist Magazine, Toronto, Ontario.

"The publication of these handbooks marks an epoch in the history of philosophical studies in this country."—Boston Advertiser.

"All acquainted with philosophical studies have welcomed the convenient issues of these 'Philosophical Classics.' They have with the greatest fairness and the clearest insight, brought the teachings of the great German metaphysicians within the easy reach of those not acquainted with the German language."—Christian Advocate, N. Y.

"Wherever one opens the poem he is sure to light upon passages of exquisite beauty. Longfellow styles it the noblest poetic contribution which Sweden has yet made to the literary history of the world."—Church Journal, New York.

"No one can peruse this noble poem without arising therefrom with a loftier idea of human bravery and a better conception of human love."—The Inter Ocean, Chicago.

"Boldness of outline and perfection of minute detail are observable throughout this delightful poem. Our readers will find that the music of the Swedish bard is faithfully rendered by his translators—a music, we may say, that is now as soft as a flute, and now stirs the pulse like the blast of a trumpet."—Christian Intelligencer, New York.

JEFFERSON—COLUMBUS: AN EPIC POEM.—Giving an accurate History of the Great Discovery in Rhymed Heroic Verse. By SAMUEL JEFFERSON, F.R.A.S., F.C.S. 240 pages. Cloth, gilt top. Illustrated 1.25

"Mr. Jefferson's volume is sure to find many readers. The story is told dramatically with fervor. In its history it is accurate, even rich, in detail. It is never commonplace, and often with a wealth of word color it rises almost to the living reality."—Western Christian Advocate, Cincinnati.

"It is a masterly treatment of the subject; the author, in depicting the trials of Columbus at the Court of Spain, and on board his vessel, evincing true poetical genius, and sustaining throughout the stately rhythm and fire of heroic verse."—The Christian at Work, New York.

"The volume before us is history, with its facts clearly stated, and told admirably in rhymed heroic verse. The literary style of the author is elegant in its simplicity, and the story is charmingly told. The part played by Queen Isabella of Spain is a graphic piece of writing. . . . . It is both a pleasing and profitable book, and pleasant to read in its clear print."—The Inter Ocean, Chicago.

KEDNEY—MENS CHRISTI, and Other Problems in Theology. By JOHN STEINFORT KEDNEY, D.D., of the Seabury Divinity School, Faribault, Minn. Cloth $1.00

"Dr. Kedney has given to the world the most important contribution to philosophical theology that has ever proceeded from our ranks. KEDZIE—SOLAR HEAT, GRAVITATION, AND SUN SPOTS.—By J. H. KEDZIE. With 22 Illustrations. Cloth 1.50

"Mr. Kedzie brings an amount of fact, well-established opinion and argument to the support of his speculations, which makes this one of the most interesting of recent books of popular science. . . . KIPPAX—CHURCHYARD LITERATURE.—A choice collection of American Epitaphs, with remarks on Monumental Inscriptions and the Obsequies of various Nations. By J. R. KIPPAX, LL.D. Cloth 1.00

"A collection remarkable for quaintness and eccentricity."—N. Y. Daily Tribune.

LAVISSE—THE YOUTH OF FREDERICK THE GREAT.—By ERNEST LAVISSE, of the Sorbonne, Paris. Translated by MARY BUSHNELL COLEMAN. 450 pages, cloth 2.00

"A masterly study of the rise of the most imperious figure of the eighteenth century sovereigns. The pictures it portrays of life and manners, of education and training, at the Prussian capital, are most entertaining and instructive. The study is the more interesting because it is made by a modern French professor, who is attempting to analyze the sources of that tremendous expansion of German power which made France herself bow in cruel defeat."—Review of Reviews, New York.

"We take especial delight in the details of Frederick's boyhood, and in this volume they are given with great fullness. As to his after life, we are supposed to know all about it, but every one is curious, when studying a historic character, to learn what there was in his earliest years which gave him his bias, his bent, and developed the qualities which marked his after life. This curiosity is amply satisfied by M. Ernest Lavisse."—The New York Herald.

"German critics pronounce this history the best that has been written, and the sudden and unprecedented popularity of the book in Europe attests that the thinking people agree with the critics. Professor Lavisse's style is ornate and elegant, and sharply critical of grave faults of both father and son. The biographies are clean, markedly authentic, fine in analysis of character, and full of fine humor and life on every page."—Chicago Inter Ocean.

WELSH—ESSENTIALS OF GEOMETRY.—By PROFESSOR A. H. WELSH. 8vo, cloth ... $1.25

"The most pleasing features of Welsh's Geometry are: Its definitions, so well combining adequacy and conciseness; the logical order preserved in the arrangement of theorems; the simplicity and clearness of the demonstrations, and the all but faultless diagrams. The pupil, in studying this book, will find a clear and distinct view opened to him, for the curtains have been drawn aside by one who is at once a mathematician and a psychologist." —New York School Journal.

WELSH—DEVELOPMENT OF ENGLISH LITERATURE AND LANGUAGE.—By PROFESSOR A. H. WELSH. University Edition. Complete in 1 vol., Unabridged. Sixteenth Edition. Crown 8vo, cloth 3.00

"It will tend to stimulate mental activity among students of literature, minister to enlarged views, and deepen the interest in the study of the whole field of English authorship."—New England Journal of Education.

"It is most fitting that a literature so great as that of the English speaking race should find an historian worthy of its dignity. The author of these volumes is eminently fitted for the place. His scholarship is excellent, his philosophy is sound, his taste fine, and his selections well made."—New York School Journal.

WINCHELL—GEOLOGICAL EXCURSIONS; or, the Rudiments of Geology for Young Learners. By ALEXANDER WINCHELL, LL.D. Illustrated. Sixth Edition. 12mo, cloth 1.25

"I am very much pleased with Winchell's Geological Excursions. The 'exercises' are simply perfect."—W. W. Rupert, Superintendent City Schools, Pottstown, Pa.

"The method of Winchell's Geological Excursions is the true one, and the subject-matter is excellent."—C. A. Washburne, Instructor in Science, High School, Augusta, Me.

"It ought to take and fill an important place. I believe such a book will not only fit our college students, upon entering, to be ready to study Geology in earnest, but in the schools where it shall be introduced will give an interest to the study hardly ever kindled by the ordinary teacher."—Henry S. Williams, Ph.D., Professor of Geology, Cornell University.

WINCHELL—GEOLOGICAL STUDIES; or, Elements of Geology for High Schools, Colleges, Normal, and other Schools. By ALEXANDER WINCHELL, LL.D. 1 vol., 12mo. 367 illustrations, 540 pages. Fourth Edition. 2.50

Its accuracy, arrangement, and wise selection of things most important to the student, will recommend it to every experienced educator."—Dr. W. A. Brownell, Instructor in Natural Sciences, High School, Syracuse, N. Y.

"A book of this kind will come like a revelation to any young student who has any taste for scientific research, and will stimulate that desire for further knowledge which it is the aim of all sound education to evoke. * * * We have seldom read anything so clear and explicit as Dr. Winchell's account of 'Dynamical Geology.'"—The Literary World, London, Eng.

HARPER'S LIBRARY OF SELECT NOVELS. 8vo, Paper.

☞ HARPER & BROTHERS will supply their "Library of Select Novels," in half binding [leather backs and pasteboard sides], suitable for Public and Circulating Libraries, at 25 cents, net, per volume in addition to the prices named below for the respective works in paper.

Novels are sweets. All people with healthy literary appetites love them—almost all women; a vast number of clever, hard-headed men. Judges, bishops, chancellors, mathematicians, are notorious novel readers, as well as young boys and sweet girls, and their kind, tender mothers.—W. M. THACKERAY.

A YEAR OF ENTERPRISE.

From the "Providence Journal," February 19, 1893.

It will be a queer revolution if the strong news sense which was once considered wholly journalistic should pass over to the magazines, and if they should alone retain the far-seeing knowledge and business judgment which considers money spent for exclusive news matter to be money well invested. It is certainly a fact that the so-called periodical literature yet remains free from syndicated weakness and courageous and fertile in the creation of exclusive special features. Within ten days I have bid goodbye to two men bound for far distant corners of the world in quest of adventure for public entertainment, but neither is a journalist. They were both sent out by the editor of one of the magazines. Let me take that magazine (HARPER'S) to illustrate how true it is that such publications are now displaying the enterprise which once distinguished the most powerful daily journals and was peculiar to them. I think the story will prove interesting as well as illustrative:

Within a year the Messrs. Harper & Brothers commissioned Theodore Child to go to India in order to study the country, without prejudice for or against the English, and with a view to determining the relations between the natives and the English in the country and between the English and the Russians in Central Asia. Mr. E. L. Weeks, a well-known English artist, was to go with him to make illustrations for his text.

It was wonderful that Theodore Child would go, for no man loved civilization and art and luxury more than he; it was tragically sad that he should persist in going overland as he did, to meet a horrible death from disease. But he wanted to see Persia, and so stalked into the cholera that was raging there, and, escaping that, died of another malady when he might have taken ship at Liverpool and gone safely. He died, and now Richard Harding Davis has started to make an extended tour of the countries of the Mediterranean and the East, and, in all likelihood, to take up Mr. Child's task in India and Central Asia. Thor de Thulstrup, who is a Swedish army officer at home and an artist here, was at the same time studying the armies of Europe. Frederic Remington, who, with Mr. Poultney Bigelow, was expelled from Russia, and whose adventures in Poland and on the Czar's western frontier are now being published, has just started for the interior of Mexico, where he expects to find picturesque conditions that we neighborly people have been unaware of.

His "range," as he would express it, since he has been employed on the magazine, has taken him to the Hudson Bay country and to Vancouver's Island with me, to Russia, and now to Mexico, and since we have travelled apart I have been in every State of the Union except Maine, Texas, and Arizona, going west to study the new States, and to the Gulf States with Mr. W. T. Smedley to note the changing condition of the South, Richard Harding Davis having gone into the South-west at the same time for the making of his book on "The West from a Car-Window."

Within the year F. D. Millet completed the canoe voyage down the Danube, which he and Alfred Parsons illustrated so cleverly, and Mr. Parsons went on to Japan and spent seven months there to do Japanese scenery and out-door subjects for the magazine. I saw him the other day, by-the-way, surrounded by his work in Millet's house, flinging upon his canvases the gayest, almost aromatic, orchards of wild-cherry trees in bloom, and fields of flowering plants and beds of monster lily blooms. Quite different work is that of Mr. C. A. Platt. I have not seen any of it yet, but he has returned from Italy, where he was sent for the magazine to study Italian gardens—especially those of Rome and Florence, with particular reference to their application in the improvement of American landscape-gardening. To conclude, then, excepting the purely artistic features (and not all of them), these enterprises are such as used to be within the field of active journalism. They have comprised half the globe in their scope, and have included a consideration of expense only as enterprise begets profit in the service of the public. JULIAN RALPH.

Like General Wallace's preceding works,

THE PRINCE OF INDIA

Or, Why Constantinople Fell, is an historical romance. The story begins in 1395; its continuous movement, however, is in a period from 1445 to 1453, the date of the conquest of the old Byzantine capital by Mohammed II. The assault and sack of the city and Mohammed's entry into Sancta Sophia (the final degradation of Christianity in the East) forms the catastrophe of the book.

Speaking generally, the book is

A Tale of Love, War, and Religion

The unities are faithfully observed, and the incidents natural, rapid in occurrence, astonishingly varied, and from first to last subservient to the catastrophe. There is not an anachronism in it, and so true are the scenes to the period that they read as if left to us by a living actor in them.

While Minister to Turkey, General Wallace was afforded exceptional opportunities for the collection of those materials which he has woven into romance, and in "The Prince of India" the result appears in all the realism of a style which gave to "Ben-Hur" a popularity that indicates for the new book an immediate and large demand.

"The volume before us is made up of a series of episodes of personal experiences of a girl left at a tender age fatherless, and who, under the care of a guardian, is cruelly treated. Then the chapter runs on under suggestive titles, until the heroine engages in 'Southern Mission Work' in South Carolina and elsewhere. The book ends with an account of a mission to the far Northwest. The style is plain and straightforward, with no effort at rhetorical display." Methodist Protestant, Baltimore.

GRIMSHAW'S
LOCOMOTIVE CATECHISM.

Under the above title the well-known engineering expert, Mr. Robert Grimshaw, has added to his justly popular series of Catechisms on the Steam Engine, Boiler, etc., a most practical and useful volume which will commend itself on sight to every locomotive engineer and fireman, and to all who design going in for examination for either position. In plain English he gives (with their answers) not only the questions which would be asked by the examining engineer of a candidate for appointment, but those which the ambitious youngster would ask the veteran, and those which old hands delight to ask each other as "stickers."

The book is fully illustrated, free from theory and mathematics, and up to date. It also includes the famous Engine No. 999, of the N. Y. C. R. R., together with a folding plate, describing the same. Its author knows both his subject and those whom he addresses.

350 pages, 200 Illustrations and 7 Folding Plates, 12mo, Cloth. PRICE, $2.00.

PERFUMES and THEIR PREPARATION.

A COMPREHENSIVE TREATISE ON PERFUMERY,

Containing complete directions for making Handkerchief Perfumes, Smelling Salts, Sachets, Fumigating Pastils; Preparations for the care of the skin, the mouth, the hair; Cosmetics, Hair Dyes, and other Toilet Articles.

With a detailed description of Aromatic Substances; their nature, tests of purity, and wholesale manufacture.

By C. W. ASKINSON, Perfumer.

Translated from the third German edition by Isidor Furst.

REVISED WITH ADDITIONS BY CHARLES RICE, Ph.D., EDITOR "AMERICAN DRUGGIST."

More than 300 pages. 32 Illustrations. 8vo. PRICE, $3.00.

 The most satisfactory work on the subject of Perfumes that we have ever seen.

* We feel safer in saying to our readers than ever before that here is a book on Perfumery that will not disappoint you, for it has practical and excellent formulæ that are within your ability to prepare readily.

We therefore commend the volume as worthy of confidence, and say that no purchaser will be disappointed in securing from its pages good value for its cost and a large dividend on the same, even if he should use but one per cent. of its working formulæ. There is money in it for every user of its information.—Pharmaceutical Record.

INVENTORS' MANUAL: How to Make a Patent Pay.

By an Experienced and Successful Inventor. $1.00.

ARITHMETIC OF ELECTRICITY

By T. O'CONOR SLOANE, A.M., E.M., Ph.D.,

Author of "Electricity Simplified," "Electric Toy Making," "Standard Electrical Dictionary."

Third Edition. Illustrated. PRICE, $1.00.

A Practical Treatise on Electrical Calculations of all kinds, reduced to a series of rules, all of the simplest forms, and involving only ordinary arithmetic; each rule illustrated by one or more practical problems, with detailed solution of each one. Followed by an extensive series of Tables, including the following subjects: All kinds of units of measurement of electrical and mechanical work, energy and heat; Relations of different systems of all kinds of units; Relation of different wire gauges, American and foreign; Electrical properties of wire of different sizes; Specific resistances; Thermo-chemical and electro-chemical equivalents; Useful factors, etc., etc.

This book may be classed among the most useful works published on the science of electricity, covering as it does, the mathematics of electricity in a manner that will attract the attention of those who are not familiar with algebraical formulæ.

It is a very common habit to read symbolical formulæ as a woman reads a novel—that is, it is "skipped;" thus the very substance of the subject is missed. This little book by Mr. Sloane is exactly what was needed by those accustomed to "skip," and will be equally valuable to the practical engineer and the student. The numerous rules, examples, and tables in the field of practical engineering and experimenting are given in plain arithmetical language, not an algebraical solution of an example appearing in the whole book.—Electric Age.

We can recommend the work.—Electrical Engineer.

This volume is a useful explanation of the ordinary and simple computations met in electrical work. It will be useful to that considerable class of readers to whom algebra is a comparatively unknown quantity, and Dr. Sloane's book is one that will meet its wants admirably. Such a simple book as this, with a considerable number of plain rules and good illustrative examples, has a useful sphere of its own, and will prove helpful to all readers. —Electrical World.

We have already reviewed "The Arithmetic of Electricity" in these columns. The best testimony of the nature of its reception by the public is the early issuing of a third edition. The object of the work is to give a practical review of the mathematics of electricity within the scope of those who are not conversant with algebra and the higher mathematics. It comprises a large number of rules, illustrated by one or more examples each, while, in order to remove from it anything of the empirical aspect, a chapter is devoted to demonstrations of the rules which require it.—Scientific American.

An elementary book on the methods of calculating the proper size of wires, the proportions of dynamos and motors, the arrangement of battery cells, and similar details of electrical apparatus has long been wanted; and Dr. Sloane's book has, we believe, no other prototype. It certainly deserves a wide circulation, and can be used to great advantage in connection with any of the recently issued popular books on electricity, the great fault of which is their failure to describe the methods of computing electrical quantities.—Engineering News.

ELECTRIC TOY MAKING,

DYNAMO BUILDING, and ELECTRIC-MOTOR CONSTRUCTION.

By T. O'CONOR SLOANE, A.M., E.M., Ph.D.

Very Fully Illustrated. $1.00.

This work treats of the making at home of Electrical Toys, Electrical Apparatus, Motors, Dynamos and Instruments in general, and is designed to bring within the reach of young and old the manufacture of genuine and useful electrical appliances.

The work is specially designed for amateurs and young folks.

Thousands of our young people are daily experimenting, and busily engaged in making electrical toys and apparatus of various kinds. The present work is just what is wanted to give the much-needed information in a plain, practical manner, with illustrations to make easy the carrying out of the work.

This is a work in which the American boy will find explanations of the details of a great number of pieces of electrical apparatus which he may construct with his own hands and for his own amusement and pleasure. The nine chapters of the book treat respectively of batteries, permanent magnets, electro-magnets, electric motors, electric bells, miscellaneous toys, spark and induction coils, and allied subjects, the hand power dynamo, and miscellaneous receipts and formulæ. The chapter on primary batteries and their proper care will be found especially valuable to those whose experience with these has not taught them that successful operation depends almost wholly upon the care with which they are watched from day to day. The author does not pretend to give a comprehensive or exhaustive treatise on the subject of electric toy making, but the "effort has been to present to the reader a suggestive line of experimentation and construction, and to open a field within which his own ideas can have indefinite scope."—Electrical World.

STANDARD ELECTRICAL DICTIONARY

By Prof. T. O'CONOR SLOANE,

Author of "Arithmetic of Electricity," "Electricity Simplified," "Electric Toy Making," Etc.

The large sales of the author's previous works, and the flattering reviews they have received from all sources, together with a great demand for a Dictionary of this kind, have led Prof. Sloane to complete, after a vast amount of labor, a work of a very high standard.

In publishing the "Standard Electrical Dictionary," we have adhered to what the work purports to be, exhausting the subject of electrical terms, giving each title the clearness of explanation necessary to make the understanding of it complete, without unnecessary elaboration. In this work, every electrical word, term, or phrase will be found intelligently defined.

The work is absolutely indispensable to all in any way interested in "Electrical Science," from the higher electrical expert to the every day electrical workman. In fact, it should be in the possession of all who desire to keep abreast with the progress of the greatest science of the times.

WHAT IS SAID OF THE STANDARD ELECTRICAL DICTIONARY.

The dictionary gives evidence of a large amount of painstaking work on the part of the author, and possesses features which must be commended. Among these, the author, wherever occasion required it, has furnished the synonyms of terms, and the book is given an additional value by an alphabetical index, which enables it to be consulted for terms both collectively and individually. The work will prove of value to the reader, whether professional or non-professional. The definitions are put tersely and concisely, so that the inquiring reader can carry away a defined, net impression as to what is meant. Any student who will spend his leisure hours over the volume will be amply repaid for his time and trouble. The book is very clearly printed in bold type on good paper, and is well bound.—Electrical Engineer.

In the Standard Electrical Dictionary we have an important addition to the working library of the amateur and professional electrician. The definitions are illustrated when necessary by well executed illustrations, which number over three hundred in all. The work has a very complete index, which renders the use of cross references unnecessary. The author has done his work in a very thorough manner. Take electricity for example. Here the author has modestly given no definition of his own, but he does not hesitate to give the opinions of seventeen of the best authorities, including many of the foremost electricians of the world. Many words are given which, owing to the rapid strides of electrical science, are here defined for the first time. There is a clearness in the definitions which recommends the book particularly to the beginner, while the advanced electrician will find such subjects as the theory of dimensions and the dimensions of electrical units fully treated. The work is an invaluable addition to even the smallest of electrical libraries.—Scientific American.

ELECTRICITY SIMPLIFIED.

By T. O'CONOR SLOANE, A.M., E.M., Ph.D.,

Author of "Arithmetic of Electricity," "Electric Toy Making," "Standard Electrical Dictionary."

Fully Illustrated. $1.00.

This work is the simplest ever published on the subject of Electricity, and does something not hitherto accomplished. Electricity is in many respects unexplained by the scientist; to the ordinary man it is all a mystery. The object of "Electricity Simplified" is to make the subject as plain as possible, and to show what the modern conception of electricity is; to show why two plates of different metals immersed in acid can send a message around the globe; to explain how a bundle of copper wire rotated by a steam engine can be the agent in lighting our streets; to tell what the volt, ohm and ampere are and what high and low tension mean; and to answer the questions that perpetually arise in the mind in this age of electricity. The theories of contact action, of lines of force, magnetic permeability, correlation and conservation of energies, and the most modern aspects of the science are given, so that the work is a true presentation of the most advanced views of science upon the great development of the day. By illustrations of original design and scope, and by mechanical analogies, the subject is made exceedingly simple.

This book is intended for the use of those whose former education has not qualified them to follow understandingly, or with any degree of interest, the abtruse and technical works of the authors whose volumes are the main sources of our information on these abstruse subjects. The author has certainly furnished electrical students with a book which will be found to explain in simple language, many of the fundamental principles and resulting phenomena of electricity.—Electrical World.

This is an excellent little book, well worth perusal.  The book is practical in the best sense of the word. The author is to be commended for producing such a work.—Electrical Engineer.

SAFETY VALVES:

THEIR HISTORY, INVENTION AND CALCULATION.

By WM. B. LE VAN,

Member of Franklin Institute, and the American Society of Mechanical Engineers; Author of "The Steam Engine Indicator and Its Uses;" also "The Steam Engine and the Indicator."

Illustrated by 69 Engravings.

Handsomely Bound in Leather, Pocket-Book Form. PRICE, $2.00.

ENCYCLOPÆDIA OF MONOGRAMS.

Containing more than Five Thousand combinations of two, three and four letters in the English, French, German and Antique styles.

These examples have all been arranged alphabetically in columns, with each series grouped under an appropriate head, plainly designated in Roman letters. This method is believed to be entirely new, and the arrangement will be found exceedingly well adapted for quick reference. Under many of these headings are grouped over a dozen separate devices for constructing the same monogram, varying in style from the severely simple to the more involved and ornate, and exhibiting the work of different artists contrasted side by side—a feature in a work of design that every designer knows so well how to appreciate. A collection of crowns and coronets, and a number of ancient and modern alphabets, are given in the final plates; and throughout the work will be found numerous quaint and beautiful specimens of ornamental lettering.

130 Large Plates, each 10 x 14 inches. PRICE, $6.00.

Rubber Hand Stamps and the Manipulation of India Rubber.

A PRACTICAL TREATISE ON THE Manufacture of All Kinds of Rubber Hand Stamps, Small Articles of India Rubber, U. S. Government Composition Dating Hand Stamps, the Manipulation of Sheet Rubber, Toy Balloons, India Rubber Solutions, Cements, Blacking, Renovating Varnish, and Treatment for India Rubber Shoes, etc., the Hektograph, Stamp Inks, and Miscellaneous Notes; with a Short Account of the Discovery, Collection and Manufacture of India Rubber.

By T. O'CONOR SLOANE,

Author of "Home Experiments in Science." Editor of "Facts Worth Knowing," Etc.

Probably thousands of young people have first attempted the doing of a little business on their own account by making rubber hand stamps and finding customers therefor among their neighbors. The details connected with the making of stamps is very simple, and success is easily attained with but little labor and a very small outlay. To all beginners this book gives full details on all points, giving in a concise and simple form the elements of nearly everything it is necessary to understand for a commencement in any branch of the India-rubber manufacture. The making of other small articles of rubber, and of the Hektograph, or copying pad, together with a variety of special inks and cements, is also set forth in a manner designed to be readily understood, the explanations being plain and simple. The author has had an extended experience as a lecturer and understands the art of presenting facts and describing processes in an interesting and attractive manner.—Scientific American.

The reading is as accurate as Lubbock, and as learned as Humboldt. The practical farmer can get to know, from this book, the looks, the habits, the life and death of the pests that prey upon his corn, his cotton, his fruit or his potatoes, while vivid pictures are given of those beautiful ephemera that make their summer life one ceaseless round of delight—from the small gilded gnat to the great bronze and crimson butterfly, the peacock of the insect world. This book is at once a thing of beauty and of vast utility. It is a popular account of all those insects which are useful or destructive, minutely describing their habits and transformations.

Dennison's Complete Patent Index may be had on any of the styles for $1 50.

POINTS

In favor of the Oxford S. S. Teachers' Bible, published by HURST & COMPANY.

1. For practical use it is as good as any Bible student needs, being an exact reproduction of the University Press, Oxford edition ; printed from fac-simile plates, with every verse, line, word, syllable, letter, and mark of punctuation, and also all the "Helps," (without abridgment) found in the English Edition, and printed on the best fine thin white super-calendered paper that can be produced in this country.

2. It can be sold at a lower price than the English editions. A reduction in price is both possible and feasible, because in its material make-up it is an American book. The duty which is exacted from the importers of English editions we do not have to pay. This duty necessitates an additional expense which the bookseller and consumer must stand. The lower net price of our bibles will be maintained.

3. No other Bible contains so many or so valuable aids to Bible Study as "The Oxford Helps."

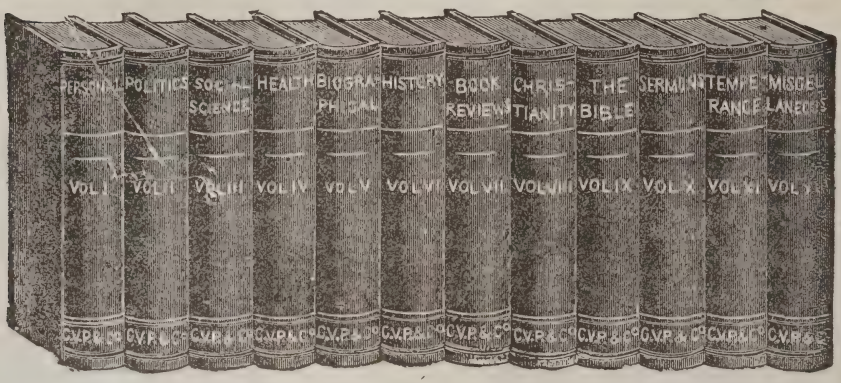
TOPICAL SCRAP-BOOK SYSTEM.



THE NEED OF IT.

Articles of great value are constantly appearing in the secular and religious periodicals, and any one who does not save valuable newspaper matter is losing a great deal. The words of One wiser than Solomon are pertinent here—"Gather up the fragments that remain that nothing be lost."

But all the methods for preserving newspaper clippings previously in use, have serious defects—take too much time to find them, to fold, re-fold and replace them, and are not handy for rapid reference. Now the does away with all these difficulties. With this library any literary person secures, in handsome form and at his fingers' ends, a systematic classification of all valuable newspaper matter It is not one or two scrap-books filled with all sorts of matter, but for each important subject, made expressly for the purpose, with the title lettered on the back. (See cut above.)

A "SEPARATE" SCRAP-BOOK

ITS ADVANTAGES

1st. All the matter upon any given subject is collected together, and can be found in a moment.

2d. It saves time There is no hunting to be done, or folding, refolding or replacing. A touch of mucilage at the top and bottom of an article, and it is in its place. This permits them to be removed when no longer desired, or parts of them to be cut out for platform or other use.

3d. It is handy for suggestion, as well as for reference. A feature possessed by no other system. A book on any subject may be taken down and glanced over at will.

4th. It is convenient in size, being no larger than an ordinary hand volume, 6½ by 10 inches, yet large enough to preserve any amount of material, containing 120 pages.

5th. A handsome addition to the book shelves, filling them with a fine set of leather-backed books, looking like a finely bound Encyclopædia, and they are nothing less than that when filled with choice cuttings.

6th. And cheap beyond example. A pig point, for it enables a man to have a Library of such books, instead of the usual one or two, and at a small outlay.

THE TITLES.

We put upon the books ANY TITLES YOU MAY WANT. The following titles are suggested:

1. Illustrations. 2. Temperance. 3. Miscellaneous. 4. Social Questions. 5. Politics. 6. Education. 7. Christian Work. 8. Sermons. 9. The Bible. 10. Missions. 11. The Church. 12. Christianity. 13. VIEWS OF EMINENT PERSONS WHO HAVE USED THEM.

Hon. Andrew D. White.

President of the Cornell University, Ithaca, N. Y.

It seems to me that you have hit upon an admirable thing. My only wonder is that of Columbus' companions in the setting up of the egg—namely, that no one had done so good and simple a thing before

Rev. W. M. Taylor, D. D., LL. D.

Pastor Broadway Tabernacle, N. Y.

I received your specimen copy, and have been so much pleased with it, and with your whole plan, that I beg now to enclose check that you may send me twelve volumes with the titles indicated below, I have lost a great deal for lack of such a series of books.

Rev. George Dana Boardman, D. D.

Pastor First Baptist Church, Philadelphia, Pa.

You have reduced the idea of a Scrap-Book to a perfect system. I do not see how anything in this line could be simpler, more complete, cheaper or more valuable.

Rev. George F. Pentecost, D. D.

Pastor Thompkins Ave. Congregational Church, Brooklyn.

Please send me ten volumes of your Scrap-Books, with titles as I have selected. I have used many scrap-book systems, but have abandoned all in turn, because they were all complicated, or else without system. I believe yours to be the best extant.

From the "Examiner," New York.

We have received a specimen of the "Scrap-Book Library" for inspection. It is the cheapest, most convenient and best contrived plan for permantly preserving newspaper clippings that we have ever seen In its special field this series of books is without a peer.

PRICE, $1.00.

The volumes are put at the low price of one dollar each.

1st. We will send sample volume, with any title you may choose to put upon the back in gilt, postage prepaid by us, upon receipt of $1.00. If you are not satisfied with the book, it may be returned and we will refund the amount paid for it less the postage.

2d. If you order a half dozen, after you obtain your sample we will make you a discount of 10 per cent and send prepaid upon receipt of $5.40.

3d. If you order twelve volumes we will give you a discount of 20 per cent., and pay express charges to your nearest express office, upon receipt of $8.30.

WIDE MARGIN BIBLES—Minion 23

PLAN OF NUMBERS.

THE simplicity of the system of numbers adopted for the International Bible makes it possible for every dealer to know exactly what each means, and how to order. In numbering, the figure in the thousands place refers to KIND: 1 to TEXT only; 2 to REFERENCE BIBLES; 3 to TEACHERS'; 4 to PARTIAL HELPS or SPECIAL FORMS. The number in hundreds refers to SIZE OF TYPE: 2, PEARL; 3, RUBY; 4, EMERALD; 5, MINION; 6, BOURGEOIS; 7, SMALL PICA; 8, PICA. The number in tens refers to the STYLE OF BINDING: 1, LIMP; 2, PADDED; 3, FLEXIBLE BOARDS; 4, FLEXIBLE BOARDS, GILT EDGE; 9, DIVINITY CIRCUIT. The number in units refers to LEATHER (except in numbers 01-09 alone): 0, FRENCH MOROCCO; 1, FRENCH SEAL; 2, PERSIAN, or IMITATION CALF; 3, ALGERIAN MOROCCO; 4, EXTRA MOROCCO; 5, CALF; 7, LEVANT; 8, EXTRA LEVANT; 9, SEAL. To illustrate: Bible No. 2594 is a Reference Bible (2), Minion Type (5), Divinity Circuit (9), Extra Morocco Leather (4). Testaments and Testaments and Psalms are numbered from 1 to 99; German Bibles are numbered from 100 to 199.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

In presenting this catalogue of the International Bible Series to the trade, we bespeak for it a careful and candid examination, assured that the dealer will find it satisfactory in the essentials of a complete and popular line of Bibles and Testaments. The line has been arranged with the belief that it has excellencies such as will commend it to all. A number of features characterize the series, and are worthy of prominence:

First. The wonderful clearness of the type used in all the books, from the smallest Pearl to Pica, and the great care exercised in the selection of paper, in the printing, and in every detail of manufacture, will commend the books to all readers.

Second. The small size makes them popular with those who carry their Bible. The arrangement of type and references is such as to give the best possible page, and reduce its size to the minimum, while the paper used gives the Bible a convenient thinness.

Third. There are three books not found in any other line as we have them—Emerald, Bourgeois, and Small Pica—each very desirable, especially in Teachers' Bibles.

Fourth. The Helps in the Teachers' Bibles, and their arrangement and classification, are entirely new, and contain features at once scholarly and practical, which will make them invaluable. They are the joint production of eminent American and British scholars.

Fifth. Major Conder, of the Palestine Exploration Society, the authority on the Geography and Topography of Palestine, has prepared a set of entirely new maps, especially for the "International Series."

Sixth. All Reference Bibles have the Subject Index, Harmony of the Gospels, Chronological Tables, and Maps.

Seventh. We have prepared at great expense, and now offer for the first time, a complete line of German Bibles, both Reference and Teachers', in all varieties of binding and at popular prices. They are printed from entirely new plates, have large, clear type, and very full references, are made with and without Apocrypha, and are listed at very low prices. The Helps in the German Bible for Teachers are thorough and of high scholarship, and embrace everything of value.

Eighth. All "Divinity Circuit" Books are made with the new "Soft Backs," and are carefully lined; and the "India Paper" Divinity Circuit Bibles are lined to the edge, with Extra Grained Lining, Paneled Calf, or Rolled Calf.

Ninth. The International India Paper used in the manufacture of the International Teachers' Bibles is especially made for this line by the finest paper makers in the world. It combines, in a more perfect degree than has hitherto been possible, the desirable qualities of thinness, opacity, strength, color, and minimum weight. The above qualities of the International India paper, combined with a perfected process of printing, and a peculiarly black and dry ink, make the International India Paper Bible superior to all others.

Tenth. The books are boxed and wrapped in an attractive and convenient style, and the numbering and arrangement of stock becomes a simple matter.

The propriety of the name "International," adopted for the series, is readily seen from the foregoing. The union of English and American enterprise in the management, and the combination of English and American scholarship in the preparation of the books, it is believed, will prove of benefit to the American trade.

A careful examination of this catalogue, and an inspection of the books themselves, will prove the truth of these statements.

Joshua exhorts the people JOSHUA, 24. before his death.

nor cause to swear by them, neither serve them, nor bow yourselves unto them:
8 But cleave unto the LORD your God, as ye have done unto this day.
9 For the LORD hath driven out from before you great nations and strong: but as for you, no man hath been able to stand before you unto this day.
10 One man of you shall chase a thousand: for the LORD your God, he it is that fighteth for you, as he hath promised you.
11 Take good heed therefore unto yourselves, that ye love the LORD your God.
12 Else if ye do in any wise go back, and cleave unto the remnant of these nations, even these that remain among you, and shall make marriages with them, and go in unto them, and they to you:
13 Know for a certainty that the LORD your God will no more drive out any of these nations from before you; but they shall be snares and traps unto you, and scourges in your sides, and thorns in your eyes, until ye perish from off this good land which the LORD your God hath given you.
14 And, behold, this day I am going the way of all the earth: and ye know in all your hearts, and in all your souls, that not one thing hath failed of all the good things which the LORD your God spake concerning you; all are come to pass unto you, and not one thing hath failed thereof.
15 Therefore it shall come to pass, that as all good things are come upon you, which the LORD your God promised you; so shall the LORD bring upon you all evil things, until he have destroyed you from off this good land which the LORD your God hath given you.
16 When ye have transgressed the covenant of the LORD your God, which he commanded you, and have gone and served other gods, and bowed yourselves to them; then shall the anger of the LORD be kindled against you, and ye shall perish quickly from off the good land which he hath given unto you.

CHAPTER 24.

1 Joshua, assembling the tribes, 2 relates God's benefits: 14 he renews the covenant between God and them: 29 his age and death.

AND Joshua gathered all the tribes of Israel to Shechem, and called for the elders of Israel, and for their heads, and for their judges, and for their officers; and they presented themselves before God.
2 And Joshua said unto all the people, Thus saith the LORD God of Israel, Your fathers dwelt on the other side of the flood in old time, even Terah, the father of Abraham, and the father of Nahor: and they served other gods.
3 And I took your father Abraham from the other side of the flood, and led him throughout all the land of Canaan, and multiplied his seed, and gave him Isaac.
4 And I gave unto Isaac Jacob and Esau: and I gave unto Esau mount Seir, to possess it; but Jacob and his children went down into Egypt.
5 I sent Moses also and Aaron, and I plagued Egypt, according to that which I did among them: and afterward I brought you out.
6 And I brought your fathers out of Egypt: and ye came unto the sea; and the Egyptians pursued after your fathers with chariots and horsemen unto the Red sea.
7 And when they cried unto the LORD, he put darkness between you and the Egyptians, and brought the sea upon them, and covered them; and your eyes have seen what I have done in Egypt: and ye dwelt in the wilderness a long season.
8 And I brought you into the land of the Amorites, which dwelt on the other side Jordan; and they fought with you: and I gave them into your hand, that ye might possess their land; and I destroyed them from before you.
9 Then Balak the son of Zippor, king of Moab, arose, and warred against Israel, and sent and called Balaam the son of Beor to curse you:
10 But I would not hearken unto Balaam; therefore he blessed you still: so I delivered you out of his hand.
11 And ye went over Jordan, and came unto Jericho: and the men of Jericho fought against you, the Amorites, and the Perizzites, and the Canaanites, and the Hittites, and the Girgashites, the Hivites, and the Jebusites; and I delivered them into your hand.
12 And I sent the hornet before you, which drave them out from before you, even the two kings of the Amorites; but not with thy sword, nor with thy bow.
13 And I have given you a land for which ye did not labour, and cities which ye built not, and ye dwell in them; of the vineyards and oliveyards which ye planted not do ye eat.
14 ¶ Now therefore fear the LORD, and serve him in sincerity and in truth: and put away the gods which your fathers served on the other side of the flood, and in Egypt; and serve ye the LORD.
15 And if it seem evil unto you to serve the LORD, choose you this day whom ye will serve; whether the gods which your fathers served, that were on the other side of the flood, or the gods of the Amorites, in whose land ye dwell: but as for me and my house, we will serve the LORD.
16 And the people answered and said, God forbid that we should forsake the LORD, to serve other gods;
17 For the LORD our God, he it is that brought us up and our fathers out of the land of Egypt, from the house of bondage, and which did those great signs in our sight, and preserved us in all the way wherein we went, and among all the people through whom we passed:
18 And the LORD drave out from before us all the people, even the Amorites which dwelt in the land: therefore will we also serve the LORD; for he is our God.
19 And Joshua said unto the people, Ye cannot serve the LORD: for he is an holy God; he is a jealous God; he will not forgive your transgressions nor your sins.

The sufferings ISAIAH, LII, LIII. of Christ.

out of thine hand the cup of trembling, even the dregs of the cup of my fury; thou shalt no more drink it again:

23 But I will put it into the hand of them that afflict thee; which have said to thy soul, Bow down, that we may go over: and thou hast laid thy body as the ground, and as the street, to them that went over.

CHAPTER LII.

1 The church roused with God's promise of free redemption. 13 Prophecy of the glory of Christ after his sufferings.

AWAKE! awake; put on thy strength, O Zion; put on thy beautiful garments, O Jerusalem, the holy city: for henceforth there shall no more come into thee the uncircumcised and the unclean.

2 Shake thyself from the dust; arise, and sit down, O Jerusalem: loose thyself from the bands of thy neck, O captive daughter of Zion.

3 For thus saith the LORD, Ye have sold yourselves for nought; and ye shall be redeemed without money.

4 For thus saith the Lord GOD, My people went down aforetime into Egypt to sojourn there; and the Assyrian oppressed them without cause.

5 Now therefore, what have I here, saith the LORD, that my people is taken away for nought? they that rule over them make them to howl, saith the LORD; and my name continually every day is blasphemed.

6 Therefore my people shall know my name: therefore they shall know in that day that I am he that doth speak; behold, it is I.

7 ¶ How beautiful upon the mountains are the feet of him that bringeth good tidings, that publisheth peace; that bringeth good tidings of good, that publisheth salvation; that saith unto Zion, Thy God reigneth!

8 Thy watchmen shall lift up the voice; with the voice together shall they sing: for they shall see eye to eye, when the LORD shall bring again Zion.

9 Break forth into joy, sing together, ye waste places of Jerusalem: for the LORD hath comforted his people, he hath redeemed Jerusalem.

10 The LORD hath made bare his holy arm in the eyes of all the nations: and all the ends of the earth shall see the salvation of our God.

11 ¶ Depart ye, depart ye, go ye out from thence, touch no unclean thing; go ye out of the midst of her; be ye clean, that bear the vessels of the LORD.

12 For ye shall not go out with haste, nor go by flight: for the LORD will go before you, and the God of Israel will be your rereward.

13 ¶ Behold, my servant shall deal prudently, he shall be exalted and extolled, and be very high.

14 As many were astonished at thee; his visage was so marred more than any man, and his form more than the sons of men:

15 So shall he sprinkle many nations; the kings shall shut their mouths at him: for that which had not been told them shall they see; and that which they had not heard shall they consider.

CHAPTER LIII.

1 The prophet complains of the want of faith. 4 Sufferings of Christ, etc.

WHO hath believed our report? and to whom is the arm of the LORD revealed?

2 For he shall grow up before him as a tender plant, and as a root out of a dry ground: he hath no form nor comeliness; and when we shall see him, there is no beauty that we should desire him.

3 He is despised and rejected of men; a man of sorrows, and acquainted with grief: and we hid as it were our faces from him; he was despised, and we esteemed him not.

4 ¶ Surely he hath borne our griefs, and carried our sorrows: yet we did esteem him stricken, smitten of God, and afflicted.

5 But he was wounded for our transgressions, he was bruised for our iniquities: the chastisement of our peace was upon him; and with his stripes we are healed.

6 All we like sheep have gone astray; we have turned every one to his own way; and the LORD hath laid on him the iniquity of us all.

7 He was oppressed, and he was afflicted, yet he opened not his mouth: he is brought as a lamb to the slaughter, and as a sheep before her shearers is dumb, so he openeth not his mouth.

8 He was taken from prison and from judgment: and who shall declare his generation? for he was cut off out of the land of the living: for the transgression of my people was he stricken.

9 And he made his grave with the wicked, and with the rich in his death; because he had done no

7 And Moses said unto Aaron, Go unto the altar, and offer thy sin offering, and thy burnt offering, and make an atonement for thyself, and for the people: and offer the offering of the people, and make an atonement for them; as the LORD commanded.

8 ¶ Aaron therefore went unto the altar, and slew the calf of the sin offering which was for himself.

9 And the sons of Aaron brought the blood unto him; and he dipped his finger in the blood, and put it upon the horns of the altar, and poured out the blood at the bottom of the altar:

20 And they put the fat upon the breasts, and he burnt the fat upon the altar:

36 What! came the word of God out from you? or came it unto you only?

37 If any man think himself to be a prophet, or spiritual, let him acknowledge that the things that I write unto you are the commandments of the Lord.

38 But if any man be ignorant, let him be ignorant.

39 Wherefore, brethren, covet to prophesy, and forbid not to speak

10 But by the grace of God I am what I am: and his grace which was bestowed upon me was not in vain; but I laboured more abundantly than they all: yet not I, but the grace of God which was with me.

11 Therefore whether it were I or they, so we preach, and so ye believed.

12 Now if Christ be preached that he rose from the dead, how say some among you that there is no resurrection of the dead?

13 But if there be no resurrection of the dead, then is Christ not risen:

INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY-SCHOOL TEACHERS' BIBLES.

ENGLISH AND GERMAN EDITIONS.

This beautifully printed edition of the Bible, with its new and carefully prepared articles on Bible Study, tables and synopses, text book, concordance and maps, forms a library in itself.

The Text of this Edition has already gained a high reputation for clearness of type and excellence of paper.

The Topics and Arrangement of the Helps are new and original. For all Bible students and workers such articles and tables as "How to Study the Bible," by Dr. James Stalker; "The Bible and the Christian Church," by Dr. A. E. Dunning; "Texts for Christian Workers," by Major D. W. Whittle; and "Daily Food," by Rev. R. M. McCheyne, will prove of special value. For Sunday-school Teachers, Dr. John H. Vincent has prepared "The S. S. Teacher's Use of the Bible."

The new Maps of Bible Lands have been drawn for this series by Maj. C. R. Conder, the best authority on Scripture Geography.

These are only a few of the special features of these new Helps. A study of the following outline will show their excellence.

A NEW BIBLE.

Special attention is called to this new size in Teachers' Bibles. Its features are:

First. The size of type,—larger than nonpareil, as clear as ordinary minion.

Second. Size of book: In dimensions the book is about the usual size of a nonpareil Bible, being thus smaller even than a convenient minion size.

Third. The price is much lower than any other Bible with good print.

It will prove to be one of the most popular of all Teachers' Bibles because of this combination of clear type, small size, and low price.

The great red dragon. REVELATION, XIII. The beast with seven heads.

Michael [l] and his angels fought against the [m] dragon; and the dragon fought and his angels,

8 And prevailed not; neither was their place found any more in heaven.

9 And [n] the great dragon was cast out, that [o] old serpent, called the Devil, and Satan, which deceiveth the whole world: he [p] was cast out into the earth, and his angels were cast out with him.

10 And I heard a loud voice saying in heaven, [q] Now is come salvation, and strength, and the kingdom of our God, and the power of his Christ: for the accuser of our brethren is cast down, [r] which accused them before our God day and night.

11 And [s] they overcame him by the blood of the Lamb, and by the word of their testimony; [t] and they loved not their lives unto the death.

12 Therefore rejoice, ye heavens, and ye that dwell in them. [u] Woe to the inhabiters of the earth and of the sea! for the devil is come down unto you, having great wrath, because [v] he knoweth that he hath but a short time.

13 And when the dragon saw that he was cast unto the earth, he persecuted the woman which brought forth the man-child.

14 And [w] to the woman were given two wings of a great eagle, that she might fly into [x] the wilderness, into her place, where she is nourished for [y] a time, and times, and half a time, from the face of the serpent.

15 And the serpent [z] cast out of his mouth water as a flood after the woman, that he might cause her to be carried away of the flood.

16 And the earth helped the woman; and the earth opened her mouth, and gave him his power, and his seat, and great authority.

3 And I saw one of his heads as it were [2] wounded to death; and his deadly wound was healed: and all [a] the world wondered after the beast.

4 And they worshipped the dragon which gave power unto the beast: and they worshipped the beast, saying, [c] Who is like unto the beast? who is able to make war with him?

5 And there was given unto him a [f] mouth speaking great things and blasphemies; and power was given unto him [3] to continue forty [g] and two months.

6 And he opened his mouth in blasphemy against God, to blaspheme his name, [h] and his tabernacle, and them that dwell in heaven.

7 And it was given unto him [i] to make war with the saints, and to overcome them: and power was given him over all kindreds, and tongues, and nations.

8 And all that dwell upon the earth shall worship him, [j] whose names are not written in the book of life of the Lamb [k] slain from the foundation of the world.

12 And he exerciseth all the power of the first beast before him, and causeth the earth and them which dwell therein to worship the first beast, whose deadly wound was healed.

23 And he said, Wherefore wilt thou go to him to-day? it is neither new moon nor sabbath. And she said, It shall be [6] well.

24 Then she saddled an ass, and said to her servant, Drive, and go forward; [7] slack not thy riding for me, except I bid thee.

25 So she went, and came unto the man of God [i] to mount Carmel. And it came to pass, when the man of God saw her afar off, that he said to Gehazi his servant, Behold, yonder is that Shunammite:

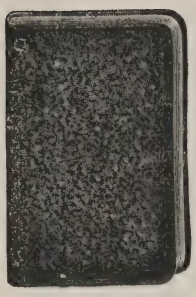
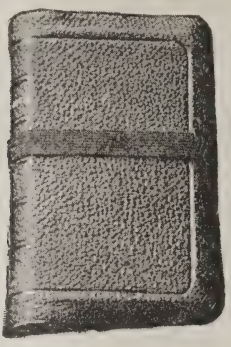
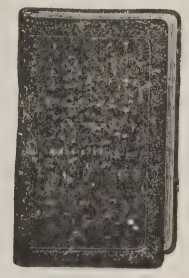
INTERNATIONAL GERMAN BIBLES.

REFERENCE AND TEACHERS' BIBLES.







Recognizing the demand for a series of German Teachers' Bibles to correspond with the English lines, we have had made an entirely new set of German Bible plates in Bourgeois type. The page is a convenient size, and the book may be easily carried. The references are especially full. The Bibles have a very complete set of Helps and the best Maps, prepared by men of high scholarship. These Bibles have all the excellent qualities of the English Bibles, in paper, printing, and manufacture. This will be the only line of German Teachers' Bibles in the world. They are made with and without the Apocrypha. There are four series in the line, with thin and India paper editions. They will be found to answer all the requirements of the general trade. Ready November 1, 1893.

In addition to the Teachers' Bibles, we have also prepared a line of German Reference Bibles, with the Apocrypha, and printed on thick and on India paper. An examination will show this to be an exceptionally good line.

Any of these Bibles may be had with Denison's Patent Index at $1.25 additional; or, Silvera's Reflex Patent Index at 75 cents additional.

The union of Christ JOHN. and his church.

21 He that hath my commandments, and keepeth them, he it is that loveth me: and he that loveth me shall be loved of my Father, and I will love him, and will manifest myself to him.
22 Judas saith unto him, (not Iscariot,) Lord, how is it that thou wilt manifest thyself unto us, and not unto the world?
23 Jesus answered and said unto him, If a man love me, he will keep my words: and my Father will love him, and we will come unto him, and make our abode with him.
24 He that loveth me not keepeth not my sayings: and the word which ye hear is not mine, but the Father's which sent me.
25 These things have I spoken unto you, being yet present with you.
26 But the Comforter, which is the Holy Ghost, whom the Father will send in my name, he shall teach you all things, and bring all things to your remembrance, whatsoever I have said unto you.
27 Peace I leave with you, my peace I give unto you: not as the world giveth, give I unto you. Let not your heart be troubled, neither let it be afraid.
28 Ye have heard how I said unto you, I go away, and come again unto you. If ye loved me, ye would rejoice, because I said, I go unto the Father: for my Father is greater than I.
29 And now I have told you before it come to pass, that, when it is come to pass, ye might believe.
30 Hereafter I will not talk much with you: for the prince of this world cometh, and hath nothing in me.
31 But that the world may know that I love the Father; and as the Father gave me commandment, even so I do. Arise, let us go hence.

CHAPTER XV.

1 The union between Christ and his church, under the parable of a vine. 26 The office of the Holy Ghost, etc.

I AM the true vine, and my Father is the husbandman.
2 Every branch in me that beareth not fruit he taketh away: and every branch that beareth fruit he purgeth it, that it may bring forth more fruit.
3 Now ye are clean through the word which I have spoken unto you.
4 Abide in me, and I in you. As the branch cannot bear fruit of itself, except it abide in the vine; no more can ye, except ye abide in me.
5 I am the vine, ye are the branches: He that abideth in me, and I in him, the same bringeth forth much fruit: for without me ye can do nothing.
6 If a man abide not in me, he is cast forth as a branch, and is withered; and men gather them, and cast them into the fire, and they are burned.
7 If ye abide in me, and my words abide in you, ye shall ask what ye will, and it shall be done unto you.

the lump is also holy; and if the root be holy, so are the branches.

17 And if some of the branches be broken off, and thou, being a wild olive tree, wert graffed in among them, and with them partakest of the root and fatness of the olive tree;

18 Boast not against the branches. But if thou boast, thou bearest not the root, but the root thee.

19 Thou wilt say then, The branches were broken off, that I might be graffed in.

20 Well; because of unbelief they were broken off, and thou standest by faith. Be not high-minded, but fear:

21 For if God spared not the natural branches, take heed lest he also spare not thee.

22 Behold therefore the goodness and severity of God: on them which fell, severity; but toward thee, goodness, if thou this mystery, lest ye should be wise in your own conceits, that blindness in part is happened to Israel, until the fulness of the Gentiles be come in.

26 And so all Israel shall be saved: as it is written, There shall come out of Sion the Deliverer, and shall turn away ungodliness from Jacob:

27 For this is my covenant unto them, when I shall take away their sins.

28 As concerning the gospel, they are enemies for your sakes: but as touching the election, they are beloved for the fathers' sakes.

29 For the gifts and calling of God are without repentance.

30 For as ye in times past have not believed God, yet have now obtained mercy through their unbelief;

31 Even so have these also now not believed, that through your mercy they also may obtain

8 For the Sadducees say that there is no resurrection, neither angel, nor spirit; but the Pharisees confess both.

9 And there arose a great cry: and the scribes that were of the Pharisees' part arose, and strove, saying, We find no evil in this man: but if a spirit or an angel hath spoken to him, let us not fight against God.

10 And when there arose a great concerning him: and we, or ever he come near, are ready to kill him.

16 And when Paul's sister's son heard of their lying in wait, he went and entered into the castle, and told Paul.

17 Then Paul called one of the centurions unto him, and said, Bring this young man unto the chief captain; for he hath a certain thing to tell him.

18 So he took him, and brought

10 Therefore I take pleasure in infirmities, in reproaches, in necessities, in persecutions, in distresses for Christ's sake: for when I am weak, then am I strong.

11 I am become a fool in glorying; ye have compelled me: for I ought to have been commended of you: for in nothing I behind the very chiefest ing crafty, I caught you with guile.

17 Did I make a gain of you by any of them whom I sent unto you?

18 I desired Titus, and with him I sent a brother. Did Titus make a gain of you? walked we not in the same spirit? walked we not in the same steps?

IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENTS

Lectures on Abdominal Surgery and Clinical Surgery

BY THE LATE CHARLES T. PARKES, A.M., M.D.

Professor of Practice of Surgery and Clinical Surgery Rush Medical College, Surgeon in Charge of St. Joseph's Hospital, Attending Surgeon of the Presbyterian Hospital, Surgeon-in-Chief of the Augustona Hospital, Consulting Surgeon of Hospital Women and Children, Chicago.

The W. T. Keener Company have pleasure in announcing the Publication of the above Book. It will comprise an exhaustive Monograph on Abdominal Surgery which contains almost everything of practical value on this subject, viewed from a clinical standpoint. It also contains an excellent paper on The Treatment of Gun Shot Wounds of the Small Intestines. Moreover, it contains clinical lectures taken from stenographic reports of his Surgical Clinic at Rush Medical College.

These lectures comprise cases suffering from nearly every Surgical Disease. It was one of the characteristics of the author to lay special stress upon the important PRACTICAL facts and to leave all new, untried and unsubstantiated theories which are likely to be shortlived out of his clinical lectures. His judgment both as regards Diagnosis and Treatment was remarkable, and his success was extraordinary. Consequently, his teaching contains nearly everything which is good and valuable to-day and but little that is likely to become antiquated.

The paper on Abdominal Surgery is especially complete, and being the result of an extraordinarily large experience, is of very great practical value.

Complete in One Handsome Volume with Portrait and Illustrations.

IT IS EXPECTED TO BE READY IN AUGUST.

 A Descriptive Circular sent to any address on application.

The Technique of Post-mortem Examination.

BY LUDIG HEKTOEN, M.D.

Pathologist to the Cook County Hospital, Chicago.

This book will contain about one hundred pages and will be provided with about thirty illustrations. The illustrations are mostly original and they aim at making the various incisions and steps in an autopsy plain and easily understood. The scope of the little volume is purely practical, and it is thought that with its aid the general practitioner will be better able to make such examinations as may satisiy the requirements of the medico-legal case and do justice to the opportunities presented for the study of morbid anatomy. The student will find the book a valuable guide during his attendance upon the demonstrations in the hospital post-mortem room, as it will enable him to gain a better understanding of the practical details of an autopsy than he usually has occasion to acquire.

II. Intestinal Surgery. Contents—The Surgical Treatment of Intestinal Obstruction. II. An experimental contribution to Intestinal Surgery, with special reference to the Treatment of Intestinal Obstruction. III. Rectal Insufflation of Hydrogen Gas as an Infallible Test in the Diagnosis of Visceral Injury of the Gastro-Intestinal Canal in Penetrating Wounds of the Abdomen. IV. Report of Cases. One handsome volume, 8vo. Cloth, $2.50

The most striking, the most valuable of Senn's original conceptions and applications are:

1. The uses of gaseous enemeta both for diagnostic and therapeutic purposes.
2. Lateral approximation by decalcified bone plates.
3. The application of omental grafts in abdominal surgery; and
4. The mechanical irritation of peritoneal surfaces between which it is desired that adhesion should take place.

The greatest value of Senn's work is its suggestiveness. He has set surgeons in all countries to thinking and planning. His methods as such may none of them be permanent, but he has given an impetus to abdominal surgery the outcome of which none can foresee, but which is full of promise. He is in the very van of progress, a leader who is not infallible, but who has earned by hard work and ability the enviable place he holds in the scientific world.—The American Journal of Medical Science.

SYNOPTICAL LECTURES

ON THE

Books of Holy Scripture.

BY

DONALD FRASER, D.D.

The plan of these lectures is an attempt to survey each book of Scripture so as to apprehend generally its scope and contents, as one may view a City from the top of a tower in order to gain an idea of its arrangement and its salient features, that he may thereafter more intelligently traverse it in detail.

The late Rev. C. H. Spurgeon says: "Dr. Fraser has observed, like many others of us, the mischief that has resulted from cutting the Bible into fragments and using it piecemeal. In these volumes he discourses of the Bible at large, indicates the scope of each book, and furnishes a brief digest of its contents. He has compressed rigorously. The design was in itself most laudable, and it has been well carried out."

The Treasury says: "In this age of biblical study it is a great gratification to have two such compendious volumes within the reach of busy workers, containing a digest of the results of present-day scholarship on all the critical problems that have recently engaged the minds and pens of the most erudite students of God's Word. Each book of the Bible is surveyed as to its scope and contents. Its arrangement and salient features are distinctly traced, and a bird's-eye view, like that of an eagle from his lofty eyrie, is given of the whole biblical landscape from Genesis to Revelation. The author has done a noble work, not only for professional students and educated Christians, but for all who desire to gain a clearer knowledge of the Book that makes wise unto salvation. These are grand books for the family library."

Published in 2 vols., large 12mo, cloth, About 370 pp.; 357 pp., $4.00.

ADVERSARY, THE: His Person, Power and Purpose. A Study in SATANOLOGY. By William A. Matson, D.D. 12mo. Cloth. 233 pp. $1.25.

This work treats of a branch of religious instruction essential to an appreciation of the nature of our spiritual conflict on earth, and of the mission of the Son of God to "destroy the works of the devil." While not slighting the more difficult portions, the author endeavors to prove, in a manner adapted to the understanding of intelligent Christians of all classes, that the enemy of God and man is a personal adversary; so recognized in Scripture and by the Christian Church in all ages—powerful and active in all periods of history, and as much so now as ever.

The New York Independent says: "The volume is a very thorough study of the subject from historic, theoretic, biblical and experimental points of view."

ALEPH, THE CHALDEAN; or, THE MESSIAH, AS SEEN FROM ALEXANDRIA.—By E. F. Burr, DD., LL.D. 12mo. cloth. 416 pp. $1.75.

The author's style is delightful; simple and natural, but elegant; possessing that ease and confidence, and nameless charm that comes from thorough culture. At the time of which he writes Jesus was drawing toward the close of His ministry; and all that is said about Him is from extracts from letters from Jews in Palestine, and from the reports of chance visitors to Palestine who have returned to Alexandria; and these are but a small part of the book, and are sown broadcast through it in the most natural way.

THE TREASURY says: "This latest production will surpass in popularity all his previous works. With somewhat the same aim as "Ben Hur" it will doubtless overrun it in circulation, and outrun it in continuous and permanent interest."

BEGINNINGS OF RELIGION, THE—An Essay. By Thomas Scott Bacon, D. D. 8vo, Cloth, 519 pp. $3.00.

The clergy will find this book very useful as a mine of material,—not indeed to be read at a sitting. Everywhere and always the writer is a devout Christian believer, and his entire confidence and trust in the Bible as God's Word, will be a bracing tonic to all his readers. The book has an excellent index and a syllabus of texts, of which the author has given an exegesis in some cases of great interest and originality.

THE NEW YORK OBSERVER says: "Dr. Bacon modestly calls his able and valuable book an essay: its object being to state what upon the whole, according to facts and true reasoning, we ought to think of the beginning and course of religion among mankind, and the substantial truth of it now. With much cogency of argument he brings the fruit of a wide range of historical and linquistic study to the maintenance of his chief position."

CHRIST AND HIS RELIGION.—By Rev. John Reid. 12mo. cloth, 331 pp. $1.50.

The present volume bears the characteristics of the author. The thought is fresh and interesting, evidently the outgrowth of the writer's own intellectual and spiritual life; it is concrete rather than abstract, centering on the living and historic Christ. The style is remarkable for short sentences and simple words. The work is one of originality and great power.

CHRISTIAN UNION says: "Keen and clear conceptions of truth mark this volume. The author is a man of thought, and his calm and well-balanced views give a charm to his writing. The book is like a fruitful field or a well-kept garden, full of noble plants and beautiful flowers. Nor is it simply ornate; there is the strength of truth in every page. The reader is carried along by the steady current of thought, and finishes the volume with a sense of having made a delightful journey."

CHRISTIANITY AND POSITIVISM.—By James McCosh, D. D., LL. D., Ex-President of Princeton College. 12mo. cloth, 370 pp. $1.75.

In the present as well as in preceding defences of her divine origin, Christianity finds in her ranks the men demanded by the time. Among those who have been foremost in her service, Dr. McCosh holds an honorable place. A large part of his life has been devoted to the study and the discussion of the main questions involved in this book.

THE NEW YORK INDEPENDENT says: "This book grapples directly with the vital questions. Every reader must admire its fairness. It is all the better adapted to popular reading from having been written to be delivered to an audience. Indeed, the thinking is generally so clear, and the style so animated and luminous, that any person of average intelligence and culture may understand and enjoy the discussion; and no such person who has begun to read the work will be likely to rest satisfied till he has finished it."

CHRISTIANITY AND SCIENCE; A Series of Lectures.—By Andrew P. Peabody, D.D., LL.D., of Harvard College. 12mo. Cloth, 369 pp. $1.75.

The three sources of proof from which scientific men draw—testimony, experiment (or experience), and intuition—are made to render their tribute to Christianity, and in a way which, while necessarily brief, is nevertheless so compact and clear and forcible as to be conclusive. A warm heart as well as a clear head shines through these pages, and lights up the calm reasoning with gems of brilliant beauty.

THE ILLUSTRATED CHRISTIAN WEEKLY says: "One of the best books we have read in a long time,—a manly, candid, noble, reasonable defense of the Christian faith. We do not see how any thoughtful person can read it in vain. Dr. Peabody plants himself fairly on the very postulates of scientific men, and proceeds to show how all that they claim for true science is fulfilled in the religion of Jesus."

CHRISTIAN'S SECRET OF A HAPPY LIFE.—By Hannah Whitall Smith. 12mo, 321 pp. Paper, 50 cents. Cloth, 75 cents. Cloth, gilt, $1.00.

The only authorized copyright and complete edition, containing more chapters than any other edition. The most practical guide to the Christian Life Extant, and a work which is incalculated to do great good when ever circulated.

ONE GENTLEMAN says: "The most helpful book I ever read, except the Bible."

A LADY writes: "Is your Christian experience unsatisfactory to yourself, and do you desire to be more like the Master? If so, buy this little book, read it, together with the Bible, and learn the Christian's Secret of a Happy Life."

WILLIARD TRACT REPOSITORY, says: "We have had overwhelming endorsement of this book."

CHRISTIAN THOUGHT.—A bi-monthly magazine edited by Charles F. Deems, D. D., LL. D Back sample copy, net, 25 cents; single number, 40 cents; yearly subscription, $2.00; clergymen, $1.50; 10 bound volumes, net each, $2.50; cloth covers for binding any volume, net, 35 cents.

To new subscribers who will take all the back volumes a special rate will be made, also easy terms of payment. Contents of volumes, premium offers, etc., on application.

This magazine contains all the lectures and papers delivered before The American Institute of Christian Philosophy, together with other valuable matter.

CANADIAN METHODIST QUARTERLY REVIEW says: "Christian Thought is a magazine for those who think and who want to think, and is emphatically a leader in thought."

CLARKE'S COMMENTARY OF THE OLD AND NEW TESTAMENT; By Adam Clarke, LL.D., F.R.S. Large 8vo., 6 vols., 1000 pages each. Cloth, $16.00. Sheep, $20.00.

A new edition of this commentary from the latest English Edition, with preparatory notices of each book, and numerous additional notes, embodying the result of recent searches in the Holy Land, and bringing the work up to the present standard of Bible criticism, together with an account of the revision of the New Testament, by the Rev. Thornley Smith, which is amplified and illustrated with pictures of sacred scenes.

THE REV. C. H. SPURGEON, said: "Adam Clarke still stands a Prince among Commentators.

THE WESLEYAN METHODIST, says: "It contains the best comments and most profound sacred lore of any work in the market."

CONCESSIONS OF "LIBERALISTS" TO ORTHODOXY.—By Daniel Dorchester, D. D. 12mo, Cloth, 344 pp. $1.50.

This work was originally prepared as a course of lectures and was delivered before the School of Theology of Boston University. At the earnest solicitation and unanimous request of the Faculty and Students together with numerous requests from other schools of Theology and the public, they were prepared for publication. The book is worthy of all commendation for the extensive research shown by the author and the presentation of the three cardinal topics: The Deity of Christ, the Atonement, and Endless Punishment.

WESTERN CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE says: "A book that should be in every minister's library. The doctor's style is singularly pure and candid, and the diction and dignity, scholarship and research is manifest in every page."

CREDENTIALS OF SCIENCE.—The Warrant of Faith. By Josiah Parsons Cook, LL.D., of Harvard University. 12mo. Cloth. 324 pp. $2.00.

The lectures were prepared at the initation of the Union Theological Seminary. The material was subsequently considerably amplified and delivered as a course of twelve lectures before the Lowell Institute of Boston. The lectures have been printed as thus extended, although in some cases the limitations of a lecture-hour compelled a division of subjects, thus reducing the number of chapters in the book to ten. The motive of the work is indicated by its title, and is a most powerful presentation of the subject of which it treats.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL TIMES, says: "Few men will be able to read it without profit."

DECISION OF CHARACTER AND OTHER ESSAYS.—In a series of letters. By John Foster. 12mo, Cloth. 352 pp. $1.50.

The author's writings have been for a long time held in most favorable regard by the public, and so general and numerous have been the commendations, that they have been sought after. The work here noticed merits and receives continued favor. The clear and cogent presentation of his sturdy thoughts make them valuable to all who consider character-making the foundation of real and continuous success. There is strength, force, beauty and completeness in the terse and telling teachings of this really great book.

JOHN McCLINTOCK, D.D., says: "His writings are marked by strong original thought, stimulating to the best principles and purposes."

DISCOURSES UPON THE EXISTENCE AND ATTRIBUTES OF GOD. By Stephen Charnock, B.D., with His Life and Character, by William Symington, D.D. 8vo, cloth, 2 vols., 606 pp.; 546 pp. $3.00.

The correctness of the composition in this work is remarkable, as it must have been written amid scenes of distraction and turmoil, arising out of the events of the times. The latter circumstance may account for the manly vigor by which they are characterized, but it only renders their accuracy and polish the more wonderful. Refinement of taste and extensive scholarship can alone explain the chasteness, ease and elegance of style, so free from all verbosity and clumsiness, which mark the production. There were giants in literature in the days that the work was prepared, and Stephen Charnock was not the least of the noble fraternity

ELIJAH; THE MAN OF GOD.—By Mark Guy Pearse. 12mo., cloth, 120 pp. 50 cents.

None of the author's productions are more popular than "Elijah." With rare vigor of thought "the Prophet of Fire" is pictured in his real and rugged character. The book is full of teachings most striking and helpful. In terse puttings he presents features of his graphic history to view. The charms of the work are the forceful and practical truths so vividly written. Every reader will be fortified by its wholesome instructions and inspirations. It is intensely spiritual and will fortify every devote seeker after spiritual quickening.

THE CHRISTIAN AT WORK, says: This is an excellent exposition of the life, work, and time of Elijah the Tishbite, and the lessons to be drawn from it. The author is among the most pleasing and eloquent writers of the day, and this little work, full of spirituality and instruction, should receive, as it deserves, the widest possible circulation.

EPISTLES OF PAUL THE APOSTLE: A Sketch of their Origin and Contents.—By George G. Findlay, B.A. 12mo. cloth, 300 pp. $1.50.

The work seeks to weave the Epistles together into an historical unity, to trace out the life that pervades them, alike in its internal elements and external movements and surroundings; and to do this in a volume of small compass and free from technical detail and phraseology. Bibliographical references and extended critical discussions are excluded.

THE BISHOP OF WORCESTER, says: "The admirable book on St. Paul's Epistles is just the book for young students, while those more advanced may read it with profit."

DR. MARCUS DODS, in the "Expositor," says: "A very useful handbook, admirably adapted for its purpose. Professor Findlay, in his perfect Commentary on the Epistle to the Galatians, has given proof of his competency to handle Pauline doctrine, and here he utilizes his great knowledge for the use of beginners."

FATHER SOLON, or, THE HELPER HELPED. By Rev. De Los Lull. 12mo. cloth, 367 pp. $1.50.

Father Solon is introduced at a Thanksgiving dinner at the old family homestead. The son Willie, an irresolate boy of twenty, and Carrie, a lovely girl of seventeen, are still at home. The old father loses everything through devotion to a friend, and the old home is abandoned, and Carrie goes to work in the village factory. Willie is enticed to Salt Lake City by a Mormon priest. An interesting description is given of his adventures. The story inculcates all the good home virtues.

THE EPISCOPAL METHODIST says; "The author, widely known as a clergyman and a close student of human nature, brings to light a charmingly written and decidedly spirit story, concerning the home, the factory and the church."

FOOTPRINTS OF SORROW.—By Rev. John Reid. 12mo.cloth, 373 pp. $2.00.

The treatise is not a devotional book, although veins of devotion are found in it. It does not strictly relate to the affliction of man, or to piety on its sombre side, or to the absolute gloom of grief. It rather calls attention to certain phases of sorrow; giving shape to our consciousness upon the subject, and seeking to impress the mind in a way that seems right.

THE CHRISTIAN INTELLIGENCER, says: "The author gives gold fresh coined in the mint of his own mind. He considers his subject under all its aspects, first showing the sources of sorrow, then the varieties of form it assumes and its benefits and consolations. The beauty and symplicity of its style, and the vein of touching sympathy that runs through its page must make it a welcome volume to all sorrowing and afflicted readers. Its exquisite typographical neatness is as refreshing to the eye as its contents are to the heart."

GOSPEL OF COMMON SENSE, THE; As Contained in the Canonical Epistle of James. By Charles F. Deems, D. D., LL. D. 12mo, Cloth, 320 pp. $1.50.

The teachings of this admirable letter are so expounded as to be adapted to men's surroundings of the present day. It is valuable as presenting the Christian religion from the standpoint of common sense. No man is better prepared to produce such a book than Dr. Deems; every page bears the imprint of his devout spirit and gentlemanly taste.

NATIONAL BAPTIST says: "The volume is a commentary. The sermons are full of sweetest evangelical thought,"

JOSEPH COOK says: "Dr. Deems' eminent common sense never appeared more profitable than in his fresh, incisive and most timely discussion of St. James' Epistle as the Gospel of Common Sense. The book is at once popular and scholarly, broad and deep, radical and conservative."

GOSPEL OF SPIRITUAL INSIGHT, THE.—Being Studies in the Gospel of St. John. By Charles F. Deems, D.D., LL.D. 12mo, Cloth, 377 pp. $1.50.

When Dr. Deems was informed that the "Gospel of Common Sense" had met with great success, it occurred to him to write a companion volume. It also occurred to him at the same time, that a book on "The Gospel of Spiritual Insight" would be such a mate. There is no portion of the New Testament which so sets forth the effects of Spiritual Insight, and the study of which so cultivates that great endowment as the Gospel of St. John. Some of our ablest preachers and most accurate scholars speak of it in unqualified praise. The author says, however, that he has prepared it mainly for readers who are not learned.

THE CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE, says: "For point and pith, fresh illustrations and thorough exposition, the volumes will command the attention of pastors and teachers."

GOSPEL IN NATURE, THE—By H. C. McCook, D.D. 12mo, Cloth, 380 pp. $1.25.

A series of popular lectures on scripture truths derived from facts in nature. They are written somewhat in the vein of Professor Drummond's "Natural Law in the Spiritual World," and will be welcomed by intelligent readers. They show both forcibly and beautifully how the elements of nature can be used to illustrate and work out the Divine Will, and the knowledge of that will toward man.

JOHN HALL, D. D., says: "It is a better book than the name implies, for it takes familiar facts from the works of God and employs them, with learning and devoutness, for the illustration of vital truths, only learned from the word of God. Dr. McCook has here, as elsewhere, used his talent for natural history wisely and effectively; and his work is practical and adapted to our times as may be seen in the discussion of such questions as a Christian's right to hold land. The book is fitted to be widely useful."

GOSPEL WORKER'S TREASURY OF HYMNS AND REVIVAL ANECDOTES, TEXTS, SUBJECTS, OUTLINES AND SCRIPTURE READINGS.—Compiled by Rev. E. S. Lorenz. 12mo, Cloth. 387 pp. $1.50.

Over one hundred and fifty popular hymns fine anecdotal illustration in this book. Over seven hundred anecdotes particularly adapted to revival work are here gathered. Over five hundred texts, themes and outlines yield the preacher or speaker a rich mine of fresh and suggestive matter. The indexes are full and complete. The book will be well-nigh indispensible to the minister or lay worker who engages in revival meetings.

THE METHODIST RECORDER, says: "The author has done his work well, and prepared a volume which will be received with favor. The illustrations are gathered from a wide field and are applicable to a great variety of subjects."

GREAT THOUGHTS OF THE BIBLE.—By Rev. John Reid. 12mo. cloth, 318 pp. $1.50.

The chief thoughts of the Bible relate to an economy of grace, so the author has made that economy the centre. Without absolute grasp of the one theme of the Scripture there is no sound writing. Rationalism never can interpret the Bible. The great thoughts of the Bible are remarkable for variety. The author has made excellent selections from the Scriptures, and has just gone far enough in the subject not to be tiresome, believing that compact thought is the want of the hour.

The New York Christian Advocate says: "It is a book that has come to stay because there are elements of power in it."

The Christian at Work says: "It is a book which will not only add to the intelligence of the Christian, but invigorate and strengthen him in the performance of all Christian duties."

GREEK-ENGLISH CONCORDANCE. A Critical Concordance of the New Testament. Prepared by Charles F. Hudson, B. A. Revised and completed by Ezra Abbot, D.D., LL.D., Professor in the Divinity School of Harvard University. Seventh edition, revised; to which is added T. S. Green's Greek-English Lexicon to the New Testament. Large 12mo, Cloth, 744 pp. Net, $2.00.

Its value to the most learned is evidenced by the fact that every one of the revisers of the New Testament used it constantly while engaged in their work. As the ablest of the Revisers was actively engaged in its preparation it is not strange that it indicates at a glance the reason for a very large proportion of the changes in the Revised New Testament; and it may be safely said, that for an intelligent and critical examination of the merits of the new Revision no one book in existence is so valuable.

HUMAN MIND, THE. A Treatise in Mental Philosophy.—By Edward J. Hamilton. Professor of Mental Philosophy, Hamilton College. Large 8vo. Cloth. 722 pp. $3.00.

Those who love to peruse the clear and elegant discussion of difficult questions will be charmed with this treatise. The excellence of Dr. Hamilton's chapters is that they discuss metaphysical questions without making them metaphysical. His writing is free from all pedantry, technicality and affectation. His arguments, though the offspring of thoughtful research are level to the common understanding, and his statement of them gives delight to those who can appreciate its pellucid clearness and the aptness of illustration with which it is adorned.

THE PRESBYTERIAN, says: "This work is one of the most comprehensive, elaborate and intelligent treaties on the subject of which it treats that has been presented to the public."

HYMNS FOR ALL CHRISTIANS.—Compiled by Charles F. Deems and the late Phoebe Cary. Cloth. 266 pp. 75 cents net. Special terms to Churches who desire to introduce this work.

This is a convenient manual embracing all the best and most used hymns of all branches of the Church of Christ. Dr. Deems declares that "to the best of the knowledge, judgment, and taste of my gifted co-worker and myself, the one hundred best hymns have been selected according to their poetical excellence, their devotional fervor, and their popularity." The classification has been made according to the apostolic category of hymns, and spiritual songs and psalms. There is every evidence of painstaking care in the selections, and the book is the result of the examination of about twenty thousand metrical compositions.

KING'S SON; The, or, A Memoir of Billy Bray. Compiled chiefly from his own memorandum.—By F. W. Bourne. Twenty-eighth edition. Revised and enlarged. 12mo. cloth, 160 pp. 75 cents.

THE CONGREGATIONALIST says: "The book would do good if lent about freely."

OCEAN GROVE RECORD says: "Such a book will be read and talked about when theological or scientific treatises are overlooked."

NEW YORK INDEPENDENT says: "It is a history of one of those 'miracles of grace' of which John Newton declared himself an example. It is one of those homely tales of the thorough-going transforming powers of Christian grace which Spurgeon has done more than any living man to celebrate. It shows how the poor man may become rich, the drunkard sober, the miserable examples of peace and joy, and how the social and individual problem of human life may be solved by the divine agency of faith. It is a stimulating book whose power lies, like Bunyan's Pilgrim's Progress, in its simple presentation of the eternal verities and realities of Christian life and experience."

LIVE COALS.—By T. De Witt Talmage, D.D. Large 8vo. 678 pp. Illustrated. Cloth, $2.00. Cloth, gilt edges, $2.75. Half Russia, $4.00.

This work is divided into Seventy-six telling chapters on as many different subjects of absorbing interest.

CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE, says; "Their power for good can scarcely be overestimated. Whether heard or read, they produce a powerful impression, and are of the kind best adapted to reach the masses in these days of absorbing worldiness and eager pursuit of gain."

PITTSBURG RECORDER, says; "If ministers would only break away from the staid niceties and etiquettic manerism of religious service, and cry aloud using every opportunity and every available means to arrest the attention of the people, all the while, like Talmage, preaching the gospel of Jesus—telling the 'old, old story' it would be far better for the Church in all its branches."

LOST CHAPTERS RECOVERED FROM THE EARLY HISTORY OF AMERICAN METHODISM. By J. B. Wakeley, D.D. with a memoir of the author by the Rev. William E. Ketcham. Illustrated with steel and wood engravings. 8vo, Cloth, 640 pp. $2.00

The light thrown on the work and usages of the early times of Methodism is most delightful and will be appreciated by many whose eyes never rested upon this excellent volume. A feature which will add intense interest to the work is a full memoir of its distinguished author, giving many facts hitherto unpublished, concerning his boyhood and subsequently eventful life.

ZION'S HERALD says: "The volume will take its place among the best records of Methodist History."

WESTERN CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE says: "It is a treasury of many facts which are indispensable to a clear understanding of Methodism."

MENTAL SCIENCE.—A Text-Book for Schools and Colleges. By Edward John Hamilton, D.D. Professor of Intellectual Philosophy in Hamilton College, 12mo. Cloth. 411 pp. $2.00.

Eminent persons, well assured of the value and excellency of this able work, advised and encouraged its publication. Its growing popularity argues that it has come to be a standard work and will find its place as a text-book in many more institutions than those who have already adopted it. With clear, incisive and pertinent presentations, the various phases of mental operations are shown, so that the ordinary dullness a work on mental philosphy engenders is entirely dispelled. It is well adapted for review, which is so indispensable to thorough knowledge of the subject.

MINTO, and Other Poems.—By Oliver Crane, D. D., author of "Version of Virgil's Æneid," in English Dactylic Hexameter. 12mo. cloth, 259 pp. $1.25.

A volume of poems which have commanded the attention of the public, and have been received with universal interest.

MATTHIAS SHEELEIGH, D. D., Editor for the Lutheran Board of Publication, says: "Minto is well conceived and rigorously expressed."

REV. DR. S. PHELPS, LATE EDITOR OE THE CHRISTIAN SECRETARY, says: "A delightful volume of poems, tastefully published. Dr. Crane has the true creative faculty, a genius for poetical conceptions and a marvelous facility for rhythmic expression, as his versions of the Dies Irae and other pieces show. The book is full of gems that sparkle with a kindly and loving light. Familiar and home scenes are clothed in the beautiful and attractive forms of poesy. Tender and sacred themes are wrought into bright pictures or stirring lyrics of hymnic finish and excellence."

NATURE AND THE BIBLE; A Course of Lectures.—By J. W. Dawson, LL. D., F. R. S. F. G. S., 12mo, Cloth, Illustrated, 258 pp. $1.75.

The standpoint of the writer is not that of a theologian or a metaphysician, but of a student of nature, who, while he has been chiefly occupied with investigations and teachings in natural science, has been a careful and reverent student of Holy Scripture, not with the view of supporting therefrom any particular school of theology, but of learning for his own spiritual guidance the mind of God.

THE INTERIOR says: "The book is not a partisan publication. It will be found by those opposed to be perfectly candid and fair, admitting difficulties in their full force, and not seeking to evade, misinterpret, or exaggerate any fact or argument. He discusses his topics as a student of nature and not from the standpoint mostly occupied by theologians."

PHILOSOPHY AND CHRISTIANITY.—A Series of Lectures. By George S. Morris, Ph.D., of the University of Michigan. 12mo. Cloth. 315 pp. $1.75.

The author lays inquiring hands upon the foundations of the most sacred and the purest interests of humanity—the interests of religion and intelligence. Deeper and more impregnable foundations than these, there are none. They constitute the rock of ages, which can never be moved. The author demonstrates anew what that rock is, and how religion and intelligence both rest upon it, in harmonious union and to the complete satisfaction of man's highest spiritual and intellectual needs. It is pithy, pointed and practical, and its pages are instructive, guiding and entertaining, and the circulation of the volume is bound to do great good.

PREACHER'S MAGAZINE, THE.—Edited by Revs. Mark Guy Pearse and Arthur E. Gregory. Published Monthly, $1.50 per year. Single copy 15 cents. No free samples. Bound volume, net, $2.50. Cloth covers, for binding, net, 35 cents.

REV. C. H. SPURGEON, says: "This unpretentious magazine is as good as the very best of its homiletical compeers. It goes straight to the point. Making no big pretences of learning and eloquence, it goes in for practical suggestions, which will be really useful to men who are laboring to win souls. Although we are by this time able to run alone, and make sermons without the aid of homilists, yet we like such magazines as these, and feel helped by looking them through. Each number is a capital return for the money."

THE METHODIST SUNDAY SCHOOL RECORD, says: "The very best thing we have seen in the way of suggestiveness for workers, preachers and teachers, THE PREACHER'S MAGAZINE is furnishing."

PROBATION AND PUNISHMENT; or, The Future State of the Wicked and the Doctrine of a Second Probation.—By S. M. Vernon, D. D. 12mo. cloth, 300 pp. $1.50.

It is a straightforward, manly, stirring, heroic book, that keeps the reader in in a lively state of curiosity and anxiety to the end. Yet it is very simple in plan, proceeds by the easiest steps, and is thoroughly plain, practical, comprehensive and satisfying in its style and conclusions. It must be regarded as the highest achievement of authorship to make of this intricate and momentous subject a book so brief, clear, readable and enjoyable.

THE NEW YORK CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE says: "The work cannot be passed by, by those who desire to know the freshest literature on this all important subject."

THE NEW YORK INDEPENDENT says: "Full and temperate discussion of the subject; all the more convincing for the author's quiet tone and disposition to be fair."

REVELATION BY CHARACTER; Illustrated from Old Testament Lives.—By Robert Tuck, B.A. 12mo. cloth, 308 pp. $2.00.

The leading idea in these studies is that every man has his own marked individuality, and his precise mission to his generation in that individuality.

THE TREASURY, says: "He is fair and reasonable.

THE CHURCHMAN, says "His works have been received with great favor.

THE CONGREGATIONALIST, says: "He writes clearly and exhibits the candid temper of the true scholar, but does not lack positiveness of conviction.

THE METHODIST TIMES, LONDON, says: "The plan of this work is novel and interesting. Preachers may get many seed thoughts from it, and they may also learn from the work that an occasional sermon on a Bible character is welcome to every kind of a congregation."

ROMANCE OF PROVIDENCE, A; Being a History of the Church of the Strangers, of New York, of which Charles F. Deems, D. D., LL. D., is pastor. Edited by Joseph S. Taylor. 12mo. cloth. Illustrated, 256 pp. $1.25 net.

This work is of interest to all. It is not a Church manual, but a volume of interest to the reading public, containing many hints and suggestions, especially valuable to the clergy as well as all others interested in religious work. Christians everywhere would be encouraged in the work of the Master by being acquainted with the rich spiritual fruits that have been gathered from what seemed at the outset an unpromising field.

THE METHODIST PROTESTANT says: "The book is suggestive to pastors everywhere for its excellent Church methods, a detail of which is given. Such monographs of Churches generally have a purely local interest, but this is general and well repays the reading."

SANCTIFIED SPICE; or, Pungent Seasonings from the Pulpit; By Madison C. Peters, Pastor of Bloomingdale Reformed Church, New York City. 12mo. cloth. 216 pages. $1.50.

A strong, sensible and stirring work, and for point, pith and illustration, will be welcomed by the public as well as pastors and teachers.

REVIEW OF REVIEWS, say, "They are keen, pithy utterances of the day."

ZION'S HERALD, says, "These selections are indeed spicy, and if the clergyman who publishes them reads or delivers them with a proper oratorical fervor, they must arouse fear, faith, antagonism, and agreement. He speaks clearly; he speaks plainly. He is very orthodox in the essentials of orthodoxy; believes in hell and says so, and does not believe in Spiritualism and says so. We recommend these breezy, inspiriting, and strong paragraphs to all. Their style is popular, but there is a good deal of sense packed in the paragraphs."

SCIENCE AND RELIGION, THE RELATIONS OF.—By Henry Calderwood, LL. D., of Edinburg University. 12mo. Cloth. Illustrated. 323 pp. $1.75.

The aim of the present volume is to indicate the measure of harmony traceable between recent advances in science, and the fundamental characteristics of religious thought, and the extent to which harmony is possible. This attempt has been made in the hope of contributing towards a better understanding of the relative positions of scientists and theologians, thereby aiding the formation of public opinion on questions appearing to involve serious antagonism.

THE EVANGELIST, NEW YORK, says: "A careful perusal of these lectures leaves the impression that it is not science, but the crude speculations and unwarranted inferences of scientists and their ill-instructed followers, that conflicts with religion. True science supports and confirms religious truth."

STUDY IN PEDAGOGY, A—By Bishop John H. Vincent, D. D., LL. D. 12mo. cloth, 73 pp. 60 cents.

Bishop Vincent has done more for the advancement of popular education than any other man of his day. In this volume will be found the fruits of his ripest thoughts in regard to the uplifting of the masses. It is a book that will be read.

THE NEW YORK SCHOOL JOURNAL says: "There is no danger that Bishop Vincent will fail to gain attention, whether he speaks verbally or through the printed page. He is one of the most prominent representatives of the idea that the whole people should be educated, instead of a class; and he emphasizes the fact that the teacher is not the only educator. Therefore, in his book he addresses teachers, clergymen, parents, and all who are interested in the uplifting of the race. The pages are few, but they are full of thought and practical suggestion. Young and old will gain inspiration from the volume."

SUNDAY-SCHOOL AS AN INSTITUTION, What Shall We Do With The.—By George Lansing Taylor, D.D. Fourth edition. Square 16mo, cloth, 30 cents. Paper, 20 cents.

A book which will create a lively interest among the Churches and Sunday-Schools everywhere. It contains a vigorous putting of a much discussed theme. It is hoped that it may prove a serviceable wedge to the further opening up of a vital matter, to the Churches, it is offered by the author, for the friendly consideration of pastors and Christian laborers. The subject is treated to command the attention of all denominations.

THE CENTRAL METHODIST says: "This is the clearest and most vigorous protestation of the whole Sunday-School question in a nutshell we have seen. It is a work that ought to be in the hands of all preachers, since its practical treatment of the difficulties of our present system, and the proper remedy to be applied make it valuable to them."

SUNSHINE FOR DARK HOURS.—By Charles F. Deems, D.D., LL.D. 12mo. paper. 25 cents, net. 30 cents by mail. Presentation edition. Half calf, uncut edges. $1.00, net.

The matter of this book is drawn from a wide range of reading, observation and experience, and is a genuine aid to contentment, comfort and relief. The tone of the book is indicative of strength gained by submission, an entire and hearty acquiesence in the will of God. If you have sick or aged friends brighten their rooms and hearts by sending a copy of this helpful book. It is printed in large type and clear page.

THE UNION SIGNAL says: "This is called a book for invalids ; it is equally appropriate for well people, to whom dark hours are sure to come. The sunshine in this book is concentrated from many different sources by the strong lines of Dr. Deems' personality."

SYNOPTICAL LECTURES ON THE BOOKS OF HOLY SCRIPTURE.—By Donald Fraser, D.D. Large 12mo. cloth, 2 volumes. 308 pp.: 312 pp. $4.00.

The plan of these lectures is an attempt to survey each book of Scripture so as to apprehend generally its scope and contents, as one may view a City from the top of a tower in order to gain an idea of its arrangement and its salient features, that he may thereafter more intelligently traverse it in detail.

The Late, REV. C. H. SPURGEON, says: "The design was in itself most laudable, and it has been well carried out."

THE TREASURY, says: "The author has done a noble work, not only for professional students and educated Christians, but for all who desire to gain a clear knowledge of the Book that makes wise unto salvation."

TOWARD THE SUNSET ; Teachings after Thirty Years.—By A. K. H. Boyd, author of "The Recreation of a County Parson," etc. 12mo. cloth. 248 pp. $1.00.

Elegantly bound in cloth, color of heliotrope, with gilt stampings on side and back. The works of this author are so well known that it is hardly necessary to say that this volume commends itself to all, as the following extracts will show.

THE SWORD AND TROWEL, says: "Just suited to the occasion."

THE BRITISH DAILY MAIL: "A volume of rare excellence."

THE SPECTATOR: "Kind, wise and practical. None of the author's latest publications have pleased us better than this."

THE LONDON DAILY NEWS: "A simplicity and sincerity of feeling which silences criticism and wins many hearts and souls."

UNDESIGNED COINCIDENCES IN THE WRITINGS OF BOTH THE OLD AND NEW TESTAMENT. An Argument for Their Veracity. By Rev. John J. Blunt, with an Introduction by Joseph Sanderson, D.D., LL.D. 12mo. cloth, 361 pp. $1.50.

The present volume is a republication, with corrections and many additions of "The Veracity of the Books of Moses," "The Veracity of the Historical Scriptures of the Old Testament," and "The Veracity of the Gospels and Acts." Argued from undesigned coincidences to be found in them when compared in their several parts. The whole presenting a continued series of independent arguments for the Veracity of the Scriptures.

JOSEPH SANDERSON, D.D., LL.D., in the introduction says: "His facts and allusions are gathered with discriminating care, his arguments are massed with a general's eye; his thoughts are clothed with words of elegance and ease."

VOICES OF THE SOUL ANSWERED IN GOD.—By Rev. John Reid. 12mo. cloth, 374 pp. $1.75.

The soul needs a way to reach God, a way to become holy, a way to become happy. Hence the book is divided into three parts; and it is shown how the wants of the mind can be met in a Redeemer, Restorer, and Satisfier. Meditation must come first, then Restoration, then Satisfaction. This is the order of nature, and this the author has followed. The treatise is to be taken as a whole, and is to be read from the beginning to the end, in order to receive the impression that is aimed at.

THE NEW YORK OBSERVER says: "That the soul of man can find its hopes realized, its wants satisfied, its fears quieted, and its measures filled in God, and in God alone, is the leading thought of this calm and powerful book. The thought is not new, but its presentation is most serious, original and suggestive."

WEIGHTS AND WINGS.—By Charles F. Deems, D. D., LL. D. Large 8vo. 348 pp. Illustrated. Cloth, $2.00. Cloth, gilt edges, $2.75. Half Russia, gilt, $3.75.

A book which will, by virtue of its practical import, command universal attention. It is full of brief but sharp-arrowed articles on themes of the most practical import. It contains subjects and hints, full of fire and fervor, that are designed to make Church members, true and tried co-operators with their pastors.

SOUTHERN CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE, says: "A very handsome volume, whose contents are well worthy of the faultless dress in which the publisher has sent them forth. No professing Christian who reads it thoughtfully can remain in doubt as to whether his Church membership is a help or a hindrance to his pastor—a 'weight or wing'—as he prosecutes his laborious and painfully responsible mission. The whole tendency of the book is to improve the relations of communicants to their pastors."

ALEPH, THE CHALDEAN;

OR,

The-Messiah-as-Seen-from-Alexandria.

BY E. F. BURR, D. D., LL. D.

Author of "Ecce-Cœlum," "Pater Mundi," "Ad Fidem," "Tempted to Unbelief," "Universal Beliefs," "Long Ago," Etc., Etc.

The Treasury says: "This latest production will surpass in popularity all his previous works. With somewhat the same aim as "Ben Hur" it will doubtless overrun it in circulation, and outrun it in continuous and permanent interest."

The Illustrated Christian Weekly in a recent number says:

AT last there is compensation for much that has been published on that line since "Ben Hur" appeared. "Aleph, the Chaldean" is his brother and equal, to say the least. In some things he is his superior, Dr. Burr is by far a finer scholar than General Wallace, and his archæology of the times is perfect. He walks the streets of old Alexandria, and attends its University, and visits its khans and wharves, and mingles with it heterogeneous peoples, as much at home as if he had been born and bred in the Egyptian metropolis. His style is also delightful; simple and natural, but elegant, possessing that ease and confidence, and nameless charm that comes from thorough culture. He is also in thorough sympathy with his subject. At the time of which he writes Jesus was drawing toward the close of His ministry and closed it; and all that is said about Him is from extracts from letters from Jews in Palestine to kinsmen in Alexandria, and from the reports of chance visitors to Palestine who have returned to Alexandria; and these are but a small part of the book, and are sown broadcast through it in the most natural way; but they gradually develop into a conception and presentation of Jesus of Nazareth as the Christ of God that are sublime.

The scene of this book lies in Alexandria, and hardly ever departs from the city; and yet there is plenty of life and movement. The scene in the University hippodrome rivals the famous chariot race at Antioch in "Ben Hur." There are two mysterious persons in the book whose acquaintance we make in the first chapter, and who come and go in every chapter with a constantly increasing charm, but we may not say who they are. The book is a thoroughly delightful and instructive one.

Lorna Doone. BY R. D. BLACKMORE. 2 vols. Crown 8vo.

Full olive or old rose color silk, gilt tops, ... $6.00
Half levant morocco, gilt, gilt tops, ... 12.00

A superb edition in two small octavo volumes, printed from the plates of the well-known Burrows Brothers' edition, with all the half-tone and wood-cut illustrations, and the addition of thirty new and beautiful photogravures from original photographs. We have been at work more than a year gathering the pictures, and no village, hamlet, stream, or other point of interest has been overlooked. The charm of this delightful book will be greatly increased by these reproductions of the veritable scenes of the story. John Ridd and the beautiful Lorna, lively Tom Faggus, Jeremy Stickles, and the outlaw Doones, all seem more real as we look at the Bagworthy and Lynn streams, at Porlock and Brendon and Lynmouth. Legend and fact are so intermingled it is not easy to separate them, and as we linger and look and read the whole seems real. The intervening two hundred years are bridged, and it is only a little while since the actors played their parts, making their exits and their entrances in this out-of-the-way corner of England. We have been fortunate in securing for a frontispiece an exquisite ideal head of Lorna Doone, and for the frontispiece to the second volume an equally good John Ridd. There have been many editions of this famous book, but we feel confident the general verdict will be that ours is as near perfect as can be made.

Through Evangeline's Country. By Jeannette A. Grant.

With a color frontispiece of Evangeline and thirty half-tone illustrations from original photographs. 1 vol., square 12mo, ornamental binding, white and gold, gilt top, $2.00

The story of Evangeline and the sorrows and sufferings of the Acadians is a theme of perennial interest. The country itself is beautiful, and now, after nearly a century and a half, tourists, increasing in number each year, delight in the trip and eagerly read over the story of the hapless people, whose industrious descendants have made a garden of the region. The author is thoroughly familiar with the country and the history of its people, and has pleasantly blended the historic and descriptive, and with the aid of a series of admirable views has made a book that should meet with a pleasant reception and ready sale.

Literary gems of all times and countries. It is the purpose of the publishers to reproduce in English the exquisite little series of books, now in course of publication in Paris under the title of "Petite Collection Guillaume," adding from time to time English, American, and foreign classics not included in that collection. To make known the scope of the series, we quote from the announcement of the French publisher: "This is not a collection of classics in the narrow sense of the term. Far from suffering this limitation, the collection will include a choice of literary jewels of all times and all countries. Modern, even contemporary, masterpieces will be found in company with the chefs d'œuvre of olden times. Beside the grand European literature — Greek, Latin, French, Italian, Spanish, English, Slavic, German, and Scandinavian — will be found the romances of the Indies, of China, Japan, Persia, Arabia; exquisite tales, vivid and affecting, most of which will have for the reader the charm of novelty."

No care or expense will be spared to preserve the charm of the dainty originals.

The wood-cuts are engraved by Andrew, the text is set up at the University Press from special type, and the whole is printed on extra fine paper from the mills of John Dickinson & Co., England. They will be bound in the following styles: —

Flexible cloth, gilt top, with dainty side and back die.	Price per volume,	$1.00
Half calf, gilt, gilt top	" "	2 00
Full flexible calf, gilt edges, ...	" "	3.00

A tale of Norwegian life, with about sixty original illustrations and a colored frontispiece.

1 vol., small quarto, cloth, gilt top, ... $1.50

This admirable book, read and enjoyed by so many young people a generation ago and now partially forgotten, deserves to be brought to the attention of parents in search of wholesome reading for their children to-day. It is something more than a juvenile book, being really one of the most instructive books about Norway and Norwegian life and manners ever written, well deserving liberal illustration, and the luxury of good paper, print, and binding now given to it.

Miss Gray's Girls; or, Summer Days in the Scottish Highlands. By Jeannette A. Grant.

With about sixty illustrations in half-tone and pen-and-ink sketches of Scottish scenery.
1 vol., small quarto, cloth and ornamental side, ... $1.50

A pleasantly told story of a summer trip through Scotland, somewhat out of the beaten track. A teacher, starting at Glasgow, takes a lively party of girls, her pupils, through the Trossachs to Oban through the Caledonian Canal to Inverness, and as far north as Brora, missing no part of the matchless scenery, and no place of historic interest. Returning through Perth, Stirling, Edinburgh, Melrose, and Abbotsford, the enjoyment of the party and the interest of the reader never lag. With all the sight-seeing, not the least interesting features of the book are the glimpses of Scottish home life, which the party from time to time are fortunate enough to be able to enjoy through the kindly hospitality of friends.

Index Omnium,

Being a reference book designed for the use of students and professional men, on a plan intended to save time and facilitate access to knowledge acquired by reading and study. By T. E. Shields. ☞No title can completely convey to the reader an idea of the value of this book. By a simple and ingenious method of indexing, the results of wide reading and study can be recorded and made available for future use. Todd's Index Rerum and other books have attempted this, but the outlay of time and labor has been so great that few persons have ever persevered in their use. By an insignificant outlay of labor the student can secure any item of knowledge he may wish to preserve. If properly used it will prove to be a key that will unlock the secrets of every library.

An Archer with Columbus. By Charles E. Brimblecom.

With about fifty illustrations from original pen-and-ink sketches.

1 vol., 16mo, handsome cloth binding, ... $1.25

A capital story of a boy who attracted the attention of Columbus while he was seeking the aid of Ferdinand and Isabella, for his great voyage of discovery. The wit and courage of the boy enabled him to be of service to the great explorer, and he served as an archer on the vessel of Columbus. His loyalty and devotion, through vicissitude and danger, endeared him to his master, and the story of his experiences and exploits will make him a favorite with boys, young and old.

The story is well told, crisply written, full of reasonable adventure and lively dialogue, without a tedious page from beginning to end.

Timothy Dole. By Juniata Salsbury.

With twenty-five or thirty illustrations from drawings and pen-and-ink sketches.

1 vol., 16mo, fancy cloth, ... $1.25

The title gives no clue to the character of the book, but the reader who begins the first chapter will not stop until he has finished the whole.

The youthful hero, and a genuine hero he proves to be, starts from home, loses his way, meets with startling adventures, finds friends, kind and many, grows to be a manly man, and is able to devote himself to bettering the condition of the poor in the mining region of Pennsylvania, the scene of his early life and adventures.

The book is not of the goody-goody order; although written with a purpose, and conveying a moral lesson, this feature is not obtrusive. It is a wholesome and vigorous book that boys and girls, and parents as well, will read and enjoy.

THE DALTON BROTHERS

and their Astounding Career of Crime

The short but notorious career of the Dalton brothers probably represents better than anything else, one extreme of the wild and lawless possibilities of the west.

Unrestrained either by civilization or law, and misunderstanding the forces with which they had to deal, they were successful for a while, but at last began to plan impossible raids, and lost their lives in endeavoring to execute them.

This book is written by an eye-witness who investigated thoroughly their entire career. It contains numerous illustrations from photographs taken on the spot. It is indeed a history of an astounding career of crime, unequalled for daring in ones so young in years and yet so old as outlaws.

Price, $1.50

What the Press of this country and England have to say of "The Feast of the Virgins" and of its talented author

Mr. Gordon, "The Poet of America."
This work should place the author's name among those of the greatest American poets. . . . . The entire volume breaths patriotism, honesty and virtuous heroism—nor is this all—Mr. Gordon's productions are at all times most forcible and masterly, and are marked by the most pure and keen feeling . . . In closing, the Republican wishes to christen Mr. Gordon "The Poet of America," and believes that those who read his work will be convinced that he is deserving of the title.—Omaha, Neb., Republican.

A Book that's destined to live.
In style, in purity, in the delightful flow of verses, in the interest of his themes, in the whole treatment of his subjects, the poet has produced a book that will charm and that is destined to live. . . . The songs of fancy are equally worthy of admiration.—Washington, D. C., Public Opinion.

These are songs of sweetness and beauty.
Mr. Gordon is possessed of the true poetic fire. . . . His sentiment is always pure and beautiful and his metaphors are natural. . . . . If the world has any need of poetry, it will give to this singer a meed of praise for songs of sweetness and beauty.—Philadelphia, Pa., Record.

Deserves a select place in best selected libraries.
The tone is elevated, the diction fluent and the rhythm good. The work will be given a select place in the best selected libraries.—New Orleans, La., Daily City Item.

A magnificent specimen of American Typography.
This volume is a magnificent specimen of American typography and binding, and is proof that American publishers can produce work equal to that offered by the best in the world.—San Francisco, Cal., Morning Call.

A most valuable service rendered to history.
Col. Gordon has done, in this volume, valuable service to history and literature, by embalming in charming verse, the poetry and beautiful legends which are so intimately associated with the Indian history of the Northwest. With the author, it is evidently a work of love, and cannot fail to find many admiring readers.—Minneapolis, Minn., Spectator.

A wreath of fast-fading Indian legends.
Mr. Gordon has embodied the fast-fading flowers of Indian legend into a wreath of great beauty and enduring charm.—Pittsburg, Pa., Chronicle and Telegraph.

Pauline.
The story is finely conceived and marked by unusual pathos and power, while the reader's interest is never allowed to flag. Woodland and country scenes are excellently drawn, and the description of battles is as vivid and realistic as we have ever read. The poet displays great power in his description of the battles of Malvern Hill and Gettysburg.—Literary World, Boston.

Pauline.
I have read Pauline with great interest. It ought to become a classic. It contains the best description of the battle of Gettysburg that I have ever seen. It is almost a photograph in accuracy and yet highly poetical. GENERAL W. S. HANCOCK.

Pauline is a new American poem by a new author. It has very great merit. Indeed it ranks well up with the best efforts of the best poets of our day.—London Spectator.

Pauline.
This is a remarkable poem and must take high rank not only in American but in English literature.—London Times.

JENNY A. HANSEY

Comprising an ENTIRELY ORIGINAL and Thoroughly Easy and Practical

Medical Family Adviser

Fully Illustrated with 8 Full-page Half Tone Engravings and over 100 Designs In the Text

The great objection to most Cookery Books may be expressed in six words: "They are too hard to understand," and, being such they are soon thrown away in disgust by the impatient housewife who fails to find therein the practical information she is after. What our good housekeepers want is a collection of plain, homelike recipes that tell them the best way of cooking such dishes as the American calls for—not outlandish mixtures our stomachs protest against in spite of the big-sounding names—mostly French—they are called by.

Now MISS JENNY A. HANSEY has written just such a book, and she herself has taken methodical care to experiment over and over again on every one of her recipes, so that the wording may be sure to correspond with the working. It is all English, pure English, good English—not French, or Italian, or Chinese

THE LIBRARY OF CHOICE FICTION

Lawrence L. Lynch's Entrancing Stories of the Secret Service

A SLENDER CLUE

By LAWRENCE L. LYNCH.
"Entirely new." "Just out." Illustrated, with specially designed cover. "A modern story of exciting detective exploits." In every way the equal of "Shadowed by Three."

THE ROMANCE OF A BOMB THROWER

By LAWRENCE L. LYNCH.
Now published for the first time; 12mo, 520 pages, with sixteen full-page illustrations from original drawings by Henry Mayer. The best that can be said of this book is that it is worthy of the reputation of its author.

THE LOST WITNESS; or, The Mystery of Leah Paget

By LAWRENCE L. LYNCH, author of "Shadowed by Three," "The Diamond Coterie," etc.; 557 pages, sixteen full-page engravings.
"The splendid reputation acquired by L. L. Lynch, whose fascinating writings have given delight to countless readers, is fully sustained in this, his latest work, Leah Paget, the beautiful daughter of a New York millionaire.

SHADOWED BY THREE

By LAWRENCE L. LYNCH. 12 mo, 670 pages, fifty-five fine full-page illustrations.
The greatest and most absorbingly interesting of detective stories. Full of incident and "point" in every chapter. Every line adds a step to the progress of the plot. "The work of a master story-writer." "Intensely interesting." "A grand book."

MADELINE PAYNE, THE DETECTIVE'S DAUGHTER

By LAWRENCE L. LYNCH. 12mo, 456 pages, forty-five full-page illustrations.
"A very interesting and exciting story. It abounds in incidents and surprises."—The Chicago Inter-Ocean. "The story is spirited, full of action and characters of much finer cast than common, while the language is chaste, effective and exceedingly picturesque."—The Detroit Free Press.

DANGEROUS GROUND; or, The Rival Detectives

By LAWRENCE L. LYNCH. 12mo, 426 pages, forty-five full-page illustrations.
An exceedingly fascinating story that will captivate the reader's attention from the very first page. Its plot is intricate and elaborate, its incidents splendidly handled. There is not a dull page or line in it. "Dick Stanhope, the Star of the Force, Sir," is a character to be loved for his manliness and admired for his courage; while one's deepest sympathies twine about the noble, tender-hearted Leslie Warburton.

OUT OF A LABYRINTH

By LAWRENCE L. LYNCH. 12mo, 471 pages, thirty-six full-page illustrations.
An admirable story of a detective's experiences among a well organized band of skillful marauders. "We are under obligations to that author of thrilling stories, Lawrence L. Lynch, for this new book. The man who wrote 'Dangerous Ground,' could scarcely write a tame book if he tried—and this is the very reverse of tame."—Evening Post.

THE DIAMOND COTERIE

By LAWRENCE L. LYNCH.
12mo, 557 pages, forty-seven full-page illustrations.
Another grand story by the author of the famous "Shadowed by Three." It tells, in the most graphic style, of a detective's adventures while "running down" a gang of carefully organized and des- perate criminals. Indeed, one of the desperadoes had been himself a detective in the past, and was therefore an adept in discovering and avoiding the most cunning schemes to circumvent the "Coterie."

A MOUNTAIN MYSTERY; or, The Outlaws of The Rockies

By LAWRENCE L. LYNCH.
12mo, 600 pages, thirty-six full-page illustrations.
The scene of this most excellent book is laid in the wilderness of the Rockies, at a time when the reckless men who then ruled this region knew no law save that of rifle or revolver. For a detective to venture among them, far away from friendly aids of civilized communities, demanded a courage but one remove from desperation; yet our old friends, Stanhope and Van Vernet, proved themselves equal to the ordeal.

GEMS by GUY de MAUPASSANT

Notre Coeur (The Human Heart)

Translated from the French by Alexina Loranger. Illustrated with twelve half-tone engravings, including portrait of the author.

"This is a handsomely printed volume, in large clear-face type and heavy paper. It is French throughout. The heroine, Mme. de Burne, is the widow of a cold-blooded tyrant. She is rich and beautiful, proud of admiration, and with a soul incapable of the pure love of woman. She fascinates André Mariole, a bachelor, and it is the love-making and the intrigues of the couple that make up the story. It is simple in plot, and its interest to the readers consists in its fine amatory scenes and descriptions, where virtue is barely preserved."—Chicago Inter-Ocean.

Pierre et Jean (Peter and John)

Translated from the French by Alexina Loranger. Illustrated with eight photo-gravures on enameled paper.

"As far as my judgment goes, a faultless production.—Henry James.

THE LIBRARY OF CHOICE FICTION

Queen of the Woods

By ANDRÉ THEURIET. Illustrated with thirty-two beautiful half-tone engravings, each one a work of art.

"This is a charming, first-class novel, translated from the French by Henrietta E. Miller, and is illustrated with a great many photo-gravures, some of the finest productions of this art that have ever been presented in a work of fiction. The story is one of love, and is remarkable for its tenderness and purity, and is one of the best books written by any French author for many a day. It is entrancing, and when once taken up the reader is loth to leave it until the denouement of the well-arranged plot is reached."

The Woman of Fire

By ADOLPHE BELOT. The Woman of Fire, by Adolphe Belot, author of "Mademoiselle Giraud, My Wife," is presented here in an original translation, and with twelve full-page illustrations printed from the Parisian plates themselves, imported into this country at great expense. A stirring story well told. The cover is a gem of artistic creation.

Her Sister's Rival

By ALBERT DELPIT. "Her Sister's Rival" is the latest success from the pen of Albert Delpit, author of that remarkable book, "Such is Life." Few stories are more dramatic in style and action, without ever being vulgar or commonplace. The illustrations (eight full pages) have been designed in Paris expressly for our edition, and have been engraved in finest half-tones. Mr. Auguste Leroy has contributed a very effective cover in three colors.

EDGAR FAWCETT

Women Must Weep

A., has written here a strong tale of the bartering of a soul for gold and of the dire disaster that follows the bargain. There is a great deal of power in this story and the interest of the reader is kept unflagging. Illustrated.

CLARA LANZA.

REMARKS

By Bill Nye

With over 150 illustrations by J. H. Smith. The fluent wit, quaintness of expression, and inimitable mirth-creating qualities of Bill Nye are too well-known from Maine to California to necessitate any special introduction. Sufficient to say that this volume of 504 pages, fully illustrated, contains "the very choicest bits from the great humorist's pen."

A. D. 2000, by Lieut. Alvarado M. Fuller, U. S. Army

"One of the few really meritorious books of the year. The author displays an intricate and most marvelous familiarity with scientific and mechanical matters, and it seems as if he were writing from actual experimental knowledge rather than from a prophetic point of view. A charming love story pervades the plot. The interest is maintained to the very end, and we lay the book aside with regret."—New York Herald.

THE LIBRARY OF CHOICE FICTION

THE ALGERIAN SLAVE

By Giuseppe Caroli. This narrative of extraordinary adventures among the piratical Moors of Algiers twenty years before this cruel race had its power for evil wrested from it by the French conquest of 1830, is based upon the actual experiences of an English lad captured by the DEY's cruel sea-robbers The story is told with a simplicity as effective as it is touching. The incidents are startlingly realistic, and, in every respect, this novel deserves a choice place in every public and private library

CRIME AND PUNISHMENT

By Dostoieffsky. This is one of those terrible tales, strictly based on fact, that come to us from the mysterious empire of the White Father, the Czar. Never has realism — in the high meaning of the word — been carried farther and by a more powerful hand than in Dostoieffsky's novels. The thread of the narrative leads the American reader through a world he has no conception of, and is sure to leave him, at the end of the journey, with a feeling of awed admiration. This is a book ONE MUST READ to obtain any true idea of the state of affairs among the cowed and impoverished Russians.

THE TOWER OF PERCEMONT

By George Sand, The great French writer, to whom George Eliot nas been so often compared, and who has left such an undying mark upon the literature of this century. This story is one of her most famous ones, and its pure and exquisite tone truly deserves the universal praise it received. Both in style and narrative it has often been called "perfect."

DR. PHILLIPS

By Frank Danby. This is a recent and very powerful novel by this talented English writer. The scene is laid in London and Eastbourne among the Jewish middle classes. Never before has the undying antagonism and animosity existing between the Semite and the Assyrian races been more vividly pictured. And although the novelist is by birth a Christian, his descriptions seem both true and fair. The plot itself is entrancing from the first to the last page, and the ring of genuine originality is there. A first-class, most entertaining novel of the present day.

GERFAUT, By Charles de Bernard

Magnificently illustrated with half-tones from original French etchings. This novel is considered by the leading literary critics of the world as a work of extraordinary merit. In fact it counts, among the ten greatest novels of the century, with "MADAME BOVARY," "A MAN OF HONOR," "MAUPRAT," etc., etc.

CORTLANDT LASTER, Capitalist

A Story of New York Society Life

By HARLEY DEENE

What the Newspapers say about "COURTLANDT LASTER, Capitalist."

CHICAGO TIMES:-"A well-written book; shows thorough acquaintance with the undercurrents of American society among the rich."
BOSTON TRAVELER:-"A marvelously interesting story."
NEW YORK JOURNAL:-"Dramatic and picturesque." NEWS:-"Extremely good narrative."
PHILADELPHIA ITEM:-"Oh! this is a fine novel! A thoroughly American tale."

DOCTOR PERDUE, By STINSON JARVIS

A masterly tale of yachting adventures, written by the talented author that of highly successful novel, "GEOFFREY HEMPSTEAD." Clark Russell, at his best, has never proved more enthralling, and the study of characters in "DR. PERDUE" is of a much higher order than that of any type introduced in Mr. Russell's famous novels.

Of the Author's efforts the Newspapers say:

NEW YORK SUN:-"Full of narrative emphasis and tragic force."
BOSTON BEACON:-"It is a long time since publishers have given us anything half so good."
CHICAGO JOURNAL:-"A new novel, by a new novelist, written in the breezy old style of Dickens."

A KENTUCKY COLONEL

HON. HENRY C. CALDWELL, who is not only one of the greatest of American lawyers, but one of the best of literary critics, says:

"I have never read a better story. It is the most beautifully wrttten, the most striking in character, and, upon the whole, one of the most thrilling and yet chaste pieces of fiction that has been produced in many a day. It will create a sensation."

"A book the popularity of which will not be temporary. It has virility, tenderness, striking character pictures and the American flavor."—CHICAGO JOURNAL.

"There is a rich vein of true humor and of healthy and vigorous sentiment, and it has a fresh and breezy atmosphere which is heartily welcome in view of the hot-house character of much of our fiction."—PHILADELPHIA RECORD.

EMMETT BONLORE

A book combining all the qualities which have made "A KENTUCKY COLONEL" so popular, with even greater variety of action and incident and character, and full of rich and sparkling humor.

"A novel of remarkable power and interest."—SPIRIT.
"A notable contribution to recent literature."—BOOK BUYER.

LEN GANSETT

"So beautiful, so chaste, so full of simple, rugged honesty and pure, wholesome sentiment that no one can read the book without being bettered. . . . It is full of gentle humor that has just enough tart in it to make it appetizing. Some of the word-painting is almost sublime, and everywhere there is that broad, sweet touch of tenderness that is a part of the author's very self."—AMERICAN COMMERCIAL TRAVELER.

SELECTED STORIES

"I thank you for the dainty volume. 'Sun Dust' and 'An Arkansas Hanging' delighted me especially. They should be in the repertoire of every elocutionist. 'John and Jack' and 'There was a Fool' are very amusing, and 'Little Diser' very touching. . . . I am glad to see that Mr. Read is beginning to pick up his diamonds and polish them."—OCTAVE THANET.

A MAN AND A WOMAN

By Stanley Waterloo

"It is a strong story throughout, and in spots it is powerful. It is natural, virile, poetic and tender—a masterly performance."—Eugene Field

THE MEDICAL NEWS.

A NATIONAL WEEKLY MEDICAL PERIODICAL CONTAINING 24–28 QUARTO PAGES OF READING MATTER IN EACH NUMBER.

PUBLISHED EVERY SATURDAY.

GEORGE M. GOULD, A.M., M.D., EDITOR.

THE MEDICAL NEWS bears to THE AMERICAN JOURNAL OF THE MEDICAL SCIENCES the relation of a newspaper to a magazine, and occupies equally a leading position in the esteem of the profession. Recognized throughout the country as the best weekly exponent of medical intelligence, THE NEWS finds its readers and its contributors in every State in the Union. Having a corps of regular correspondents in all medical centres, THE NEWS is in early possession of all information of interest. Subdivided into the departments of Original Articles and Lectures, Hospital Notes, Progress, Clinical Memoranda and Therapeutical Notes, Editorials, Society Proceedings, Correspondence, Reviews, and News Items, THE MEDICAL NEWS is well equipped for furnishing its readers with a complete account of the medical life and progress of the times.

The fact that it answers the needs of physicians in active practice is shown by an increase in its subscription list which has justified a reduction in price to Four Dollars per annum. It is now the cheapest as well as the best large weekly magazine. No means of gaining information is overlooked, and everything is presented in such manner as to convey intelligence in the most attractive and useful form.

The American Journal of the Medical Sciences.

A MONTHLY, CONTAINING IN EACH ISSUE 112–128 LARGE OCTAVO PAGES, FULLY ILLUSTRATED.

EDWARD P. DAVIS, A.M., M.D., EDITOR.

WITH the first issue for 1893, THE AMERICAN JOURNAL OF THE MEDICAL SCIENCES enters upon its seventy-fourth year, still the leader of American medical periodicals. In its long career it has developed to perfection the features of usefulness in its department of literature, and presents them in unrivalled attractiveness. It is the medium chosen by the leading minds of the profession on both sides of the Atlantic for the presentation of elaborate Original Articles; its Reviews are noted for discernment and absolute candor, and its Classified Summaries of Progress present, each month, an epitome of medical advances gleaned by specialists in the various departments. According to unquestionable authority, "It contains many original papers of the highest value; nearly all the real criticisms and reviews which we possess; and such carefully prepared summaries of the progress of medical science and notices of foreign works, that from this file alone, were all other publications of the press for the last fifty years destroyed, it would be possible to reproduce the great majority of the real contributions of the world to medical science during that period."

SUBSCRIPTION RATE REDUCED TO $4.00 PER ANNUM.

It is safe to say that in no other publication of its kind can an investment be made with the certainty of so rich a return. When it is taken in connection with the weekly MEDICAL NEWS, the reader can rest assured that nothing of importance in the life of the great medical world will escape his attention. To lead every subscriber to prove this fact for himself, the Commutation rate has been greatly reduced, being fixed at the exceedingly low figure of Seven Dollars and Fifty Cents Per Annum in Advance.

A WORK OF ART

I Have Called You Friends

By IRENE E. JEROME, author of "One Year's Sketch Book" "Nature's Hallelujah" "A Bunch of Violets" "In a Fair Country" "Sun Prints in Sky Tints" "The Message of the Bluebird" "From an Old Love Letter." Chastely illuminated in Missal style. Exact fac-similes of the author's original designs in color and gold. Printed in best style on fine paper. Beautiful cover design by author. Size 7 × 10 inches. Boxed, $2.00.

The text of this exquisite book consists partly of sentences from Scripture, and partly of brief sayings and poems by R. W. Emerson, Helen Hunt Jackson, John W. Chadwick, Paul H. Hayne, W. C. Gannett, Charles Kingsley, and "D. M." A stanza by the latter is worth quoting:

> "God never loved me in so sweet a way before;
> 'Tis He alone who can such blessings send,
> And, when His love would new expression find,
> He brought thee to me, and said, 'Behold a Friend!'"

The pieces relate to some quality or aspect of Friendship, and each has its special attraction.

The text is clearly engraved in Old English, and each page is, as it were, framed in an artistic design, in which the graces of form, with lines or disks of chaste gilding, and flowers in lovely colors, make a picture of glowing harmony, like the frontispiece of an illuminated missal.

The flowers are pansies, but vary in hue from page to page. Sometimes they are set like gems upon a solid gold ground; sometimes they are airy, natural, and free. But it is seldom that the eye rests upon more brilliant yet reposeful groups of color than in these pages.

The workmanship is in harmony with the rich and effective designs. The engraving is beautifully done, and a certain ideal perfection places its cachet upon the whole.

It is not a book merely to be taken up for an idle moment. Its sweet and holy sentiment, and its delightful freshness of color and delicacy of design combine to make it "a joy forever."

By the author of "The Fallow Field"

Periwinkle

By JULIA C. R. DORR. Illustrated from Drawings in Charcoal by ZULMA DELACY STEELE. Containing 36 drawings printed on fine cut paper. Size, 8½ × 11 inches. Oblong quarto. Cloth. With handsome cover. Boxed. Full gilt, gilt edges. $3.00.

This book contains a series of thirty-six pictures and vignettes which were drawn in charcoal, and then reproduced in half-tones. They are charming landscapes, such as are seen in the picturesque regions of old New England, and succeed each other with varied groupings and special details, yet with a familiar resemblance. The drawings are free and bold, giving the effect of a skilful artist's original sketches; while, at the same time, the half-tone process lends a silvery softness to the work. The vignettes facing the drawings are formed of graceful sprays of periwinkle. In each scene there are cattle grazing or resting, and one of them continually reappears. And then the title comes to mind, and the question arises, "Who or what is 'Periwinkle?'" Turning then to the poem, the reader finds a charming little melody which gives ideal suggestions of form, color, and motion. The poet and artist follow the "Tinkle, tinkle" of "Periwinkle" through meadows and pastures, along willow-fringed streams, and among the rocks on the hill-side, and picture the beauties of the summer landscape. As we pass along the grassy path the tinkle of the bell is a bright accent among the drowsy sounds of field and farm. In this way the illustrations take us into the heart of the poem.

A New Edition of

The Fallow Field

Poem by JULIA C. R. DORR. Illustrated with Reproductions of Charcoal Sketches by ZULMA DELACY STEELE. Containing 25 drawings printed on fine cut paper. Size, 8½ × 11 inches. Oblong quarto. Full gilt, gilt edges. Price, $3.00.

This is an artistically illustrated poem by the above author and artist. It contains thirty full-page and vignette pictures, made in charcoal, and reproduced in half tones with much spirit and excellence. The leading thought of the stanza is treated to a separate illustration on the alternate pages in a manner that is most pleasing. The poem is ideal, and yet its thoughts will stir up memories and recall to multitudes of readers incidents and events which live and are loved in memory. The artist is in full sympathy with the poet, and charmingly phases the real in nature with the ideal of the poet. The lover of artistic work will find new beauties to admire whenever a page is turned in the beautiful book. — Chicago Inter-Ocean.

Mrs. Julia C. R. Dorr's poem, "The Fallow Field," is an ideal and spiritual attempt to bring outer nature and the inner life into harmony. The thought is pure and elevated, the poetic form simple and smooth. The volume is an oblong quarto with twenty-five reproductions of charcoal sketches by Zulma De Lacy Steele. The effect of this half-tone rendering of charcoal work in many instances is really strong. — Christian Union, N. Y.

The Rime of the Ancient Mariner

By SAMUEL TAYLOR COLERIDGE. Illustrated in outline by J. NOEL PATON R.S.A. with an Introductory Note by FRANCIS H. UNDERWOOD LL.D. Twenty Full-Page Drawings accompanied by the text from entirely new plates. Size, 7¼ × 11 inches. Cloth. Full gilt, gilt edges. Boxed. Price, $2.00.

"The Rime of the Ancient Mariner" is the most powerful and imaginative of modern ballads, and one of the masterpieces of English poetry. In design and in execution it resembles nothing in literature, and it keeps its place in the memories of men as something apart. Whoever runs over the poem in middle age remembers the delightful thrills he experienced when first he encountered the strange conceptions, the striking images and epithets, and the unexpected strokes that mark the successive stanzas. No poem which deals with the supernatural has so well stood the test of time. The force of imagination in this poem never once droops. The poet puts every reader in a position to see with his own eyes the action as it advances. There is nothing of the flat and level style of prosaic narration. The lines are alive, and the ideas and images they convey burst into light.

There is no need to make a summary of this weird story, nor to make quotations from its striking passages; all its passages are striking. The only use of a prefatory note is to advise the reader to read carefully, and meanwhile to use his earnest efforts to follow and comprehend the marvellous conception. There is no danger that the poem will ever be forgotten. Its wonderful lines will be burned into the leaflets of memory forever. It is not worth while to look for any occult meaning or interpretation; for it a pure piece of poetic creation, employing all the resources of nature and the supernatural. It has a grave and sweet moral: charity to all men and love to all God's creatures.

The illustrations by Sir Noel Paton will be a pleasure as well as a help to the reader. They are drawn with a free hand, and are full of spirit and character. The help they give is in making for the student a visible image or tableau of the several scenes; and some degree of imagination is needed to comprehend and realize these mental pictures.

The poem, with its masterly illustrations, will be a keepsake of intellectual and artistic worth, and the publishers believe they will receive the thanks of the public for this brilliant book.

A New Edition of

The New England Country

Text and Illustrations by CLIFTON JOHNSON. Containing over One Hundred views of New England Scenery and Life. Size, 7¼ × 11¼ inches. Cloth. Gilt, gilt edges. Boxed. Price, $2.50. Full leather, $3.75.

Taking Mr. Johnson's text and pictures together, we incline to think that there is scarcely a volume of prose to which we should send a person with more confidence that he would get a thoroughly trustworthy impression of New England country life, past and present, than this tasteful compilation. — Boston Literary World.

A very taking book, especially to those who love New England, is Mr. Clifton Johnson's delightful account of "The New England Country." Mr. Johnson gives a complete and charming picture of old and new times in a section endeared by birth or association to a multitude in all parts of the country. The volume is generously illustrated, and very beautifully printed. — Hamilton W. Mabie, in "The Book Buyer."

From Sunrise to Sunset

By CURTIS GUILD author of "Over the Ocean" "Abroad Again" "Britons and Muscovites" etc. An elegant volume of original verse with more than 40 illustrations by Copeland, and others. Small quarto. Size 7½ × 10 inches. Cloth. Full gilt, gilt edges. Boxed. Price $3.50

Mr. Curtis Guild is a veteran journalist, being the editor of the "Commercial Bulletin," Boston, and as an author has won conspicuous success by his books of foreign travel. "Over the Ocean" and its successors have been greatly popular for many years. Mr. Guild's attachments to old school fellows are very strong, and from time to time at their stated gatherings he has read feeling and beautiful greetings in verse. He was the laureate of the friendly association. Other subjects for poetry have also claimed his attention, and he has achieved distinction in idyllic tales, historical sketches, domestic scenes, and stories of frontier life. Some of these were written for the "Knickerbocker Magazine" in the early fifties, when Louis Gaylord Clarke was the editor, — when Leland, Curtis, Parkman, and other now famous writers, were also beginning to be heard of.

It is a varied collection, covering a long stretch of life, and exhibiting the succession of moods and feelings from vivacious youth to serious age. Such a collection is a true autobiography, and the reader, following in the steps of the poet, lives over again the life with him.

The volume has the great advantage of being beautifully illustrated. The numerous designs are original, appropriate, and artistic, and are engraved on wood in the highest style of art. Some are exceedingly suggestive and poetic, and all are conspicuous for some merit. It is seldom that such illustrations gladden the eyes of readers. With their help the various pieces become luminous.

The local illusions in one or two of the "Occasional Poems" will greatly please elderly New Englanders. Yet as a whole the interest is general, and the book will have as warm a welcome west of the Mississippi river as in the author's home.

All Around the Year 1894

Designs in color by J. PAULINE SUNTER. Printed on heavy cardboard, gilt edges, with chain, tassels, and ring. Size 4¼ × 5½ inches. Boxed. Price 50 cents.

"The publishers present that annual favorite, "All-Around-the-Year" calendar for 1894, and a particularly charming one it is. Hanging by its silvery chain and tied with dainty white silk cord and tassels, it holds forth great enticement to the appreciatively curious to look within for the fruits that the different months may bring forth.

"A delightful tale in its mixture of love and childhood, birds and flowers. The dear, dainty little figures, decked in smiling gowns, and with curiously expressive faces, turning the leaves of the year for us with childhood's mixture of nonchalance and seriousness. They are quaint little figures and very tasteful combinations, and no one but will find a special charm in finding dates on such an attractive calendar; and so we finish our first look at one of the prettiest attractions of the calendar season."

The Maud Humphrey Ivorines

A series of well-known and beautiful Hymns and short Poems, finely illustrated, and furnished with new and artistic cover-designs, by MAUD HUMPHREY. Printed in delicate colors on imitation ivory. Gilt edges. Boxed. Price $1.25 each.

Comprising the following:

ROCK OF AGES.
IT WAS THE CALM AND SILENT NIGHT.
NEARER, MY GOD, TO THEE.
MY FAITH LOOKS UP TO THEE.
HE GIVETH HIS BELOVED SLEEP.
THE LORD IS MY SHEPHERD.
HOME, SWEET HOME.
O WHY SHOULD THE SPIRIT OF MORTAL BE PROUD?
COME INTO THE GARDEN, MAUD.
FROM GREENLAND'S ICY MOUNTAINS.
ABIDE WITH ME.
THE BREAKING WAVES DASHED HIGH.
THE MOUNTAIN ANTHEM.
THAT GLORIOUS SONG OF OLD.
CURFEW MUST NOT RING TO-NIGHT.
DORA. By TENNYSON.
RING OUT, WILD BELLS.
OUR FATHER IN HEAVEN.
HANNAH JANE.
LADY GERALDINE'S COURTSHIP.

These Hymns have been successively published as souvenirs or gift-books for Thanksgiving, Christmas, and New Year; for Birthdays, Wedding Days, and other joyful seasons, and have had a great and constantly increasing popularity. It was a happy thought to add the attractions of color and decorative design to the poems and hymns which the people know and love. No venture of Lee and Shepard has been more fortunate than this; and they believe the success will be enduring.

They were fortunate in engaging MAUD HUMPHREY, whose inimitable skill and taste as a designer are universally appreciated. Her name stands for perfection in drawing and grouping, and for rich and harmonious effects of color. The utmost care has been bestowed upon the engraving, the delicate coloring, the graceful lettering, and all the mechanical processes, and, as the background is an imitation of ivory, the excellences of each illustration are shown with appropriate relief.

It should be added that the Hymns are printed on the finest of paper at the University Press, Cambridge. The panels are bevelled and gilt. The books have gilt edges, and are neatly boxed.

The public and the trade are assured that no pains or expense will be spared to keep up the high reputation which these beautiful books have obtained, and the publishers believe, from past experience, that the demand will continue to increase.

A New Edition

My Little Friends

Portraits of Children With appropriate verse. Half-tone reproductions from life Collected by E. HEINRICHS. White leatherette, gold title. Size 8 × 10 inches Boxed $2.00

ÉDITION DE LUXE. A large-paper edition, limited to 200 copies, of above book, on very heavy, fine cut paper $5.00

A holiday volume, which needs only to be seen to captivate any one who is at all fond of children, is this collection of children's portraits, reproduced in half tone and accompanied by appropriate poems, which are probably to be referred to E. Heinrichs, the collector. It is dedicated to "Baby McKee," whose frank little face is the frontispiece. The seventy-one portraits from life take a wide range all over the country, and include dozens of charming little girls and boys whose pictures have been taken by photographers skilled in the art. From the naked little boy examining his thumb, in the first plate, to the diminutive picture of Master Reed, a young "colored gem'man" of Lexington, Ky., the volume is a succession of pleasant surprises. Among the most thoroughly taking pictures are those of little Jim and his old gray horse; the little violinist; the baby row; the little Chinese boy of Boston; the little German boy with the spectacles; and the little Injun, "Wounded Knee," of Salt Lake City, to whom we should on the whole award the palm. Instantaneous photography has removed the objection to the smile and the laugh in photographs, and the numerous pictures of laughing children in this delightful collection are among the most successful we have seen anywhere. — Boston Literary World.

Our Colonial Homes

By SAMUEL ADAMS DRAKE Author of "Old Landmarks of Boston" Decisive Events in American History" etc. Illustrated by Twenty large Half-Tone Engravings. Cloth Full gilt, gilt edges. Size, 7¼ × 11¼ inches. Boxed. Price, $2.50.

A mere description of houses, though made by Walter Scott and Viollet-le-Duc — that is, by a romantic poet and a poetic architect combined — would not be wholly impressive, on account of the lack of the human element. This Mr. Drake has realized, and he has managed to invest his themes with the liveliest interest by connecting each house with the life and fortunes of its builder or occupant. Thus, in the account of the Hancock house in Boston, he has given a lively sketch of the merchant whose bold signature appended to the Declaration of Independence continues to impress mankind. In a comparatively brief space the author tells the story of the man and the times, with hints of his relations with the great families, Quincys, Adamses, Jacksons, and others. As Mr. Drake is an antiquarian, and thoroughly master of local as well as general history, he goes on with a confidence that is contagious, and makes his readers partakers of his knowledge and his enthusiasm. In no history is there a more able or more charming picture.

In the case of Paul Revere, whose midnight ride was sung by Longfellow, we have the same fulness of illustration. We get a glimpse into the revolutionary times as from a search light. The same may be said of all the houses in the long list. There is the accuracy of history, with the details of the lover of antiquity, and the fine touches of the delineator of character.

Among the other personages brought into view are Governor Craddock, Edward Everett, the Olivers, Minots, Quincys, Adamses, James Otis, Sir William Pepperell, John Howard Payne, and others.

Among the houses described are the ancient church in Hingham, Mass., the Witch House in Salem, the Wayside Inn in Sudbury, the Old Indian House at Deerfield, and the Old Stone House at Guilford, Conn.

These, as the author says, are "the stepping stones of history," and a deep and pervading interest attaches to every one.

The publishers commend this work to the public with the assurance of its sterling merits, its patriotic associations, and its clear and attractive style.

By the Author of "Sweet and Twenty"

Paula Ferris

By MARY FARLEY SANBORN. Author of "Sweet and Twenty" "It Came to Pass" etc. Paper 50 cents; cloth $1.25

Mrs. Sanborn, whose first novel, "Sweet and Twenty," produced so favorable an impression, has written a new one entitled "Paula Ferris," in which is shown a decided step in advance. The writing shows mastery of English, as well as broadening of mind, and accumulated experience. The readers at once feels confidence in his guide and follows the story without question.

The heroine is (naturally) a fine woman, but with a foible; and having allowed herself to be admired, is dangerously near falling. With the shifting of the scene to a northern region, and the coming in of a gruff and powerful male cousin, the temperature falls, serenity returns, and peace with honor reigns. It will be a charming book to read at the seashore, or in a hammock, or under a shading tree in the country.

The Builders of American Literature
First Series

Biographical and Critical Sketches of Leading American writers, born previous to 1826, By FRANCIS H. UNDERWOOD LL.D., author of "The Poet and the Man" "Quabbin" "Man Proposes" "Lord of Himself" "Handbooks of English Literature." Cloth, $1.50. (SECOND SERIES in Press.)

This work is intended to show the beginnings and the growth of our literature down to a comparatively recent period, and will be completed in two volumes, The first series, now published, has an Historical Introduction, serving also as a General Survey. The body of the work consists of biographical and critical notices of eminent authors, beginning with Jonathan Edwards, and ending with those born previous to 1826, of which the last happens to be Richard Henry Stoddard, the poet. At the close is an interesting dessertation upon "Some Mostly Forgotten Poets," based upon the collection of Samuel Kettell, "The Poets of America," published in 1829.

Some of the sketches of lesser authors have been taken from Mr. Underwood's Handbook, published in 1872, which have been rewritten, but most of them are new. The notices of the leading authors will be found specially attractive, as they have been carefully studied, and compactly written. The tone is judicial, yet not unsympathetic, and the general fairness of the judgments will not be questioned. They are always interesting, because apt and to the point; in colloquial phrase, Mr. Underwood generally hits the nail upon the head.

The second volume will probably appear within a year, and will be devoted to the great and increasing throng of authors born since 1825.

This will be a valuable work, not only for teachers and pupils, and for libraries, but for the general public. It contains a vast amount of interesting information, and is a most agreeable companion for a leisure hour.

The $2,000.00 Prize Story By AMANDA M. DOUGLAS. Paper 50 cents; cloth $1.00

It is one of the most charming stories of the year. It is a story not only excitingly interesting, but one which warms up every reader's heart and makes him wiser and better for the reading. It is the simple story of a poor waif, a beneficiary of the Eastern "children's home" sent West to grow up with the country. The fair author has written many entertaining books, but none more marked for its clearness and beauty as a story and the simplicity and excellence of its literary style. The character of Aunt Mat seems so real and her life so impressively beautiful that interest in her excels even the interest in the hero of the book. — Chicago Inter-Ocean.

Bethia Wray's New Name

By AMANDA M. DOUGLAS. Cloth $1.50

Miss Douglas has intuitive perceptions with rare power of description, and she manages to show a whole village — its people, its ideas and ways. Each character of the story is clearly conceived and solidly embodied, and becomes a personal acquaintance. The reader sees the traits of each, whether noble, or weak, or base, as if he were inspecting their souls.

But it is not solely a psychological study; for the story is full of movement, and of natural, lively incident; and the fortunes of the heroine and her friends will be followed with absorbing interest. Bethia's "New Name" results from her intellectual and moral development. Miss Douglas is a born story-teller, and in this volume she has given a charm to the narration which will be felt by every reader, and will greatly advance her already high reputation.

The title will set readers thinking, for it might cover almost any feminine menta product. But it is not a series of regrets for a spoiled existence, nor has it any of the acid comment which is ordinarily expected from old maids. It is a segment of a mature and beautiful life. The "Leaflets" record the author's experiences in a quaint home, situated in a charming neighborhood, and among the most natural people ever described.

In this case the style is the woman, and it is seldom that in such a work an author has so completely (and doubtless unconsciously) portrayed herself.

The ambition of the spinster was to bring up a boy, and the ostensible purpose of the book is to record her experiences among the boys in her neighborhood while looking to find the right one for adoption. Incidentally she describes a village full of people, and contrives to make portraits of all who come into her plan. Incidentally, also, she touches upon current topics and current literature, and shows not only perception and judgment, but a charming personality of her own.

The style is by turns delicate, wayward, keen, capricious, tender, and glowing. Begging pardon of the old-time gardener of Hartford, this book has many points of resemblance with his. Not so mirthful but with more of feeling, it vies with his in liveliness and grace, and has also a solid basis in character and judgment.

Altogether, it is very difficult to convey an adequate idea of the "Leaflets." It is not difficult to state the facts, but to show how they are treated. For this author has really a "style," and it is a pleasure to read anything she writes.

Cultivated people, who enjoy nature and natural living, will read this book with delight.

Biblical Eschatology

Its relation to the current Presbyterian Standards and the Basal Principles that must underlie their revision: being a review of the writings of the Presbyterian divine, Rev. L. C. Baker By HENRY THEODORE CHEEVER D.D. Cloth $1.25; paper $1.00

A work, written in excellent style and spirit, and worthy of wide reading. The volume contains an original essay by Mr. Baker upon the Eschatology of the Future. The underlying principle explained and defended, from which great effects are expected in remolding theology, is the redemptive nature of the resurrection, a view of God's action in saving men as being carried on by the development of the resurrectionary process. — Public Opinion, Washington, D.C.

Common Folks' Religion

By LOUIS ALBERT BANKS D.D. Author of "White Slaves" "The People's Christ" "The Revival Quiver" "Our Brother in Yellow" etc. Cloth $1.50

In nothing is the spirit of the new age more clearly revealed than in the recent discourses of clergymen. If the reader looks in this book for an old-fashioned sermon, with its nine or ten divisions and its "improvements," he will be happily disappointed. The texts appear to stand as mottoes or suggestions. The topic to be treated is presented in the first sentence. The statement and comments are clear, incisive, and always to the point. If it is not the religion of common folks, it is at least put in a way for common folks to understand and profit by it.

The True Grandeur of Nations

By CHARLES SUMNER Cloth 75 cents

The long list of Fourth of July Orations in Boston is brightened, here and there, by some conspicuous effort, some production of towering thought, or lesson of patriotic and Christian duty. Few in the series have the monumental character which belongs to Sumner's great oration. He was almost the first among statesmen in this country to take a stand against war, and in favor of the settlement of international disputes by arbitration. The oration is a great argument, an applied essay in morals, and a grand specimen of English literature. For every reason it is desirable that this masterly production should be read by Americans. The result will be felt in a higher tone of thought, a purer conception of ethics, and a broader pacific patriotism.

Not Angels Quite

By NATHAN HASKELL DOLE. Paper 50 cents; cloth $1.25.

Mr. DOLE, a forcible, witty, and versatile writer, has produced a novel called "Not Angels Quite," (the title taken from Browning) in which a pair of engaged couples (in ball-room phrase) waltz about, turn partners, and chassent all at the same time with the dignity of the old-time minuet. The plot appears simple — when one is through with it, but is new and clever. The scenes are like a series of "impressionist" pictures.

Aside from the interest of the story, the reader will be entertained by the glimpses of the social institutions and fads of an Eastern city — possibly Boston. But there are also serious discussions offering food for thought.

The scenery throughout is beautifully done. A yacht cruise on the coast of Maine, with which the action closes, is a picturesque poem. A number of original poems are scattered through the book, — a largesse quite unusual with novelists.

It is a wholly modern book, fin de siècle in method and style, and will interest the younger iconoclasts who are tired of the old models.

Joseph Zalmonah

By EDWARD KING Author of "My Paris," etc. Paper 50 cents; cloth $1.25

Joseph is a Jew, of an austere and lofty type, wholly unselfish, and devoted to the cause of his oppressed people in the slums of New York. The pictures of life among the working tailors and other hardly-used men are striking and effective, without the usual exaggeration, and without offensive details. The wisdom, probity, and courage of Joseph make him a natural leader.

The story contains many touching pictures, and scenes of idyllic beauty. Not the least interesting are the descriptions of the Hebrew festivals and holy days, which have seldom been presented in such a vivid and attractive style. The book portrays "Life among the Lowly," and is so well managed that a deep and absorbing interest pervades it from beginning to end.

Third Hand High

By W. N. MURDOCK Paper 50 cents; cloth $1.25

This is not a story of cards as the title may lead the reader to expect, but it is a well-written novel with a purpose. The plot is ingenious and well preserved, while the treatment of it is very strong. The author has strong descriptive power, and the characters are presented with great clearness. There is not a tedious page in the book, but the attention of the reader is enlisted at the outset, and he is carried forward with increasing interest until the last page is reached.

La Divina Commedia

Di DANTE ALIGHIERI. Testo comune colle variazione dei codici publicati da CARLO WITTE. Edizione Americana. Cloth $1.25.

This is the best edition and purest text of Dante's masterpiece published in this country, and the low price at which it is offered will secure its use by all students of the Italian language.

New Juveniles

New Optic Books

A Victorious Union

By OLIVER OPTIC Cloth Illustrated $1.50.

This is a delightful and exciting story of adventure in a blockading vessel off Mobile in the latter part of the War of the Rebellion. It is very seldom, even among the greatest masters of narration, that a story is so simply, directly, and powerfully told. The main feature is the capture of a Confederate vessel, "The Tallahatchie" (originally called "The Trafalgar"), and her consort, "The West Wind," laden with cotton. The Union commander, Captain Breaker, was ably seconded by Lieutenant Christy Passford, who was the hero of the naval action and of the story.

The movements of the vessels are described in marvellously clear terms, and the reader is so fascinated as the events pass that he trusts the seamanship of the author without reserve. The incidents of the chase, the compliments exchanged between the heavy guns of the respective vessels, the grapple, the boarding, the sharp struggle, and other stirring incidents are followed with breathless haste, and often with moistened eyes.

Mr. Adams has never written a more vigorous or more charming story. It has enough truth for ballast, and enough imagination to inspire young readers with patriotic fervor and heartfelt admiration.

Young Americans Afloat; or, Cruising in the Orient

By OLIVER OPTIC. Cloth. Illustrated. $1.25.

One could not well desire to go around the world in better company than Oliver Optic provides for those who follow Louis Belgrave as he travels on board that prince of steam-yachts, "The Guardian-Mother." The presence of wealth makes possible all sorts of freedom and adventure, and the rate at which the incidents of adventure multiply upon one another is certainly progressive. But so also is the nature of the information which the story gives. The facts narrated include a generous amount of geographical statistics conveyed in the pleasant way peculiar to Oliver Optic's manner of writing for his young friends.

The Young Navigators; or, The Foreign Cruise of the Maud

By OLIVER OPTIC Cloth Illustrated $1.25

Every boy who has hidden away in a corner to pore over Oliver Optic's stories will be glad to hear that the genial friend of the boy story lover has written another volume in his "All Over the World Series." This latest story recounts the further adventures of Louis Belgrave and his faithful ally, Felix McGavorty, in a trip which begins at Constantinople and extends to many islands of the Archipelago. The voyage is continued to Athens, Corinth, Delphi, and the Ionian Islands. Mr. Adams is always descriptive and interesting without moralizing, and he places Louis Belgrave, the hero of the story, in some very tight positions, but always manages to extricate him, and while developing the plot throws in much information of places and peoples.

The above two volumes belong to the SECOND SERIES of the

Woodie Thorpe's Pilgrimage and Other Stories

By J. T. TROWBRIDGE Cloth Illustrated $1.25

To see life as it is, and depict it by easy and truthful touches, is a high attainment. Mr. Trowbridge has abundantly vindicated his claim to a place among the writers to whom readers attribute the grace and power of naturalness. "Woodie Thorpe's Pilgrimage," "Uncle Caleb's Roan Colt," "Lost on the Tide," etc., are all stories of deep interest, which one will follow with attention. The book does not preach, but conveys some salutary lessons.

There is many and many a volume written for boys, but they are not all alike beneficial; therefore the standard writers, to which class belongs Mr. Trowbridge, may undisputedly claim a kingdom whose reigning motto is Manliness.

The Picturesque Geographical Readers

By CHARLES F. KING author of "Methods and Aids in Geography" etc.

Fifth Book. The Land We Live In. Part III. In press

Fully Illustrated Price 56 cents By mail 64 cents

Mr. King is so well known as a writer of works on geography, and his many books have been so favorably received and extensively used in schools, that it is almost impossible to do more, in noticing any new book from his pen, than to state its purpose. Teachers are already assured that nothing but the best is to be found in Mr. King's books. In this fifth book, the Cartmell family is taken through the far western States to the Pacific coast. Every place of importance is visited, mines are described, the large farms inspected, products examined, railroads ridden over; in fact, everything that should and does interest not only children but grown-up folks is talked about, pictured, and described. For a supplementary reading book it has no superior, and as a home book it is incomparable.

Exercises in Rhetoric and English Composition

By G. R. CARPENTER Professor of English Composition and Rhetoric, Columbia College Fourth Edition Price 75 cents net

The greater attention given to the subject of English composition in our schools and colleges is shown by the increase of manuals endeavoring to simplify the subject and render it practical. Altogether the best of these recent attempts is Professor Carpenter's "Exercises in Rhetoric and English Composition." The text represents the substance of teaching which a freshman may fairly be expected to compass, and it is set forth with clearness and directness and brevity so admirable as to make the volume seem almost the realization of that impossible short method of learning to write which has been often sought for, but never with a nearer approach to being found. We do not hesitate to give unreserved commendation to this little book. — N. Y. Nation.

Carpentry for Boys

Elementary Wood Work

For Manual Training Classes. Designed to give Fundamental Instruction in the use of all the Principal Tools needed in Carpentry and Joinery. By GEORGE B. KILBON, Principal of Manual Training, Springfield, Mass. Author of "Knife-work in the Schoolroom." Cloth. 75 c. net. By mail 85 c. net.

Although no book, however expensive in detail, can be a substitute for an efficient instructor, this book will be of marked service to novices. It outlines in detail the rudimentary elements of manual wood-work, advancing by gradual steps to more difficult use of the tools. The system here pursued is neither Russian nor Swedish, but partakes of the nature of both. The educational problems of any given series are chosen for their educational values purely, while every series closes with one or more useful projects, thus combining the principal features of two well-known systems. In the hands of a teacher this little volume cannot fail to be eminently suggestive and helpful; to the student it will insure a thorough elementary grounding and final mastery of saw and plane. — Boston Transcript.

Sun-Prints in Sky Tints

By IRENE E. JEROME author of "In a Fair Country" "Nature's Hallelujah" "One Year's Sketch Book" "Message of the Bluebird" "A Bunch of Violets" "From an Old Love Letter" etc. Over Thirty Illustrations engraved on wood, accompanied by appropriate selections in Poetry and Prose. Elegant cover design. Size, 7⅛ × 11¼ inches. Price $3.00

Miss Jerome, it has been aptly said, has the rare gift of suggestion; her sketches of meadow and mountain, woodland and lake, lonely forest roads, bird and plant life, and of flowers, ferns, and grasses, all tend to illustrate the conception of the poet, or the thought of the prose-writer. We seem, in looking at her work, to be on the spot with her, to feel the beauty of earth and sky, to inhale the breath of flowers, and to hear the joyous songs of birds. In this new volume, "Sun-Prints in Sky Tints," the harmony between the sentiment of the selections and that of the illustrations is remarkable, evincing not only artistic power and refined taste, but a rare poetical understanding. — Boston Transcript.

The Story of a Small Town With Outlooks upon Puritan Life. Second edition. By FRANCIS H. UNDERWOOD LL.D. author of "Handbooks of English Literature" "Man Proposes" "Lord of Himself" etc. Fully illustrated. Cloth. Price $1.75.

I hardly thought I should find time to read your book, for I have had a great influx from authors of late. But dipping into it, I became interested, and the more I read the more I was pleased; and so read on until I had taken up every chapter, every sentence, every word, and the three notes of the Appendix; lapped them up as a kitten laps up a saucer of cream.

I cannot tell you how much pleasure your picture of the New England town and its people has given me. The careful studies and the picturesque descriptions of localities, persons, habits, modes of life, virtues and failings, beliefs and principles of action you have given in these pages make it one of the best delineations of New England life; one of the best, at least, that I have ever found in the course of my reading.

I congratulate you on having made an admirable story, or tableau, rather, of a period and a kind of life which, within my memory, if not within yours, has mostly died out.

I must speak also of the beautiful and thoroughly characteristic illustrations, which have called forth my genuine admiration. — Oliver Wendell Holmes.

The Poet and the Man

Recollections and Appreciations of James Russell Lowell By FRANCIS H. UNDERWOOD, LL.D. author of "Quabbin" "Handbooks of English Literature," "Builders in American Literature" "Man Proposes" "Lord of Himself etc. With two portraits and fac-simile. Price, $1.00

The author had good opportunities to understand Mr. Lowell. He has written out of love for the memory of the great writer. The narration is delightful. It is fresh, full, helpful, without being so full of petty details as to offend the sense of propriety. It is a comparatively full elucidation of Mr. Lowell's tastes, disposition, aims, and endeavors. It covers his life from youth to age, and there is much comment upon the times, and upon New England as well. The work is multum in parvo. It is an exceedingly attractive work. Paper, presswork, and binding are in harmony with the contents. Two portraits of Mr. Lowell are given. — Public Opinion.

First Days Amongst the Contrabands

By ELIZABETH HYDE BOTUME. Cloth $1.25

Miss Elizabeth Hyde Botume recalls old times vividly in her stories of the colored people as they first appeared in the days of freedom. She shows what progress has been made in the education of the colored man since the second year of the civil war, when she first entered the ranks in the capacity of teacher to the black children within the Union lines. She pictures the contrabands as she found them, and as they appealed to her sympathies, revealing their natural instincts, their quickness to seize ideas, and their lazy indifference to personal surroundings. Her sketches are full of interest, and are exceedingly unique in their presentation of character. One who has not been behind the scenes can hardly understand all the difficulties that first arose after the emancipation of the slaves. The resources of life could not be enjoyed until a practical system of education had been followed out. Mrs. Botume had many trying experiences as well as many amusing ones, and her admirable descriptions will acquaint the reader with the actual condition of affairs at the South during the past and at the present time. — Boston Herald.

In Health The Relation of the Sexes

By Dr. A. J. INGERSOLL. With portrait of author. Cloth $1.00

The ideas are the result of long professional experience, are pure and high in tone, and as such will be of benefit and assistance. Dr. Ingersoll's work relates to the influence of the spiritual life over the physical, more especially in sexual troubles and the special diseases of women. He claims that troubles of this character are curable, if patients are willing to commit their entire being to God, with a full faith that He is able to keep them from disease and sin. The work is written in very plain and direct language, with an earnest desire to help humanity. — Boston Times.

Let Him First be a Man

Essays chiefly relating to Education and Culture By W. H. VENABLE LL.D. author of "The Teacher's Dream" "Beginnings of Literary Culture in the Ohio Valley." Price $1.25.

Any one who has read "The Teacher's Dream" would recognize in the titular injunction, "Let Him First be a Man!" the bottom principle of Dr. Venable's doctrine of culture and education. In this new book he deals with the problems of teaching and learning in a broad and entertaining fashion, bringing to the subject a wealth of experience, a goodly fund of humor, and a rich store of apposite quotations. Dr. Venable is an untiring foe of deadly routine in the training of children, and an earnest and brilliant advocate of whatever will tend to the best and most useful in life. — Buffalo Express, N.Y.

Froebel Letters

With Explanatory Notes and Additional Matter By ARNOLD H. HEINEMANN. With Portraits and Illustrations. Price, $1.25.

In the selections from Froebel's letters, never before published, we are taken into the silent brain-chamber of the friend of children; and we see how he toiled painfully along the road pointed out by reasoning and experience before — in his simple phrase — he "found" the Kindergarten. This book, with its explanatory notes, becomes at once a memoir and a history of the system, and it is both highly interesting and instructive. — Boston Home Journal.

Ideal Suggestion through Mental Photography

A Restorative System for Home and Private Use, preceded by a Study of the Laws of Mental Healing. By HENRY WOOD author of "God's Image in Man" "Edward Burton" "Natural Law in the Business World" etc. Cloth $1.25

This last work is one of the most charming volumes of essays of recent years. Henry Wood is the Emerson of the new metaphysical thought, and in his writings there is a certain wealth of thought and felicity of expression not found in Emerson. I know of no American essayist to-day who clothes his ideas in such a wealth of rhetorical expression, and who is never verbose, as Mr. Wood. If his style is florid and poetic, there is never any superfluous word or sentiment introduced for artistic effect. He has a magnificent command of language, and expresses his ideas with rare felicity, which makes anything coming from his pen delightful reading, even though one may differ radically with the thought expressed. In the present volume Mr. Wood appears at his best as an essayist. Indeed, in many chapters he seems to even surpass any former work. — B. A. Flower in Arena.

The Tobacco Problem

This work is to the point. Mrs. Lawrence has ransacked all available sources of information on the subject. She has made a book of rare interest and usefulness. She discusses the financial, the physical and intellectual, the social and artistic, the moral and spiritual views. One of the most interesting features of the book is a condensed history of Geo. Socialism. From Genesis to Revelation

By Rev. F. M. SPRAGUE. Cloth, $1.75.

This is, on the whole, the ablest and most comprehensive indictment of our present system of business that has yet appeared. It is a summary, not only of the "literature of discontent," but, what is much better, of the literature of Christian hopefulness that can be satisfied with nothing less than a radical change in the methods which have hitherto dominated the world. No doubt many worthy persons will find it as impossible to conceive of the reformed state which Mr. Sprague outlines, as their ancestors found it to believe in the existence of the antipodes. Nevertheless, as it was a fact that men lived upon the other side of the earth with no necessity of falling into space, so we may be sure that somewhere in the future stands the ideal Christian state, difficult as we may find it to conceive of the just apportionment of work and reward by the very human politicians with whom our elections provide us. The spirit of revolt against existing conditions grows stronger every day, the progressing evolution of society demands an increasing restriction of individual freedom, and it is a matter for congratulation that a clergyman so well equipped comes forward as teacher and leader. — Boston Transcript.

A Woman's Philosophy of Love

By CAROLINE F. CORBIN author of "His Marriage Vow" etc. Cloth $1.50

Primarily Mrs. Corbin is addressing women, for whom the book is intended, but she does not hesitate to devote a few chapters to men, who come in a modest way within the range of her philosophy, and who certainly will not be injured by the adoption of any of her suggestions. Love, in Mrs. Corbin's opinion, is a tremendous power. It is the divine life of the universe, as it is found in the home and in its world-wide relations. From this general starting-point she diverges until she has covered all the territory, Christian and secular, spiritual and physical, and rounded up humanity to a proper sense of its obligations.

In taking a "practical view of marriage," Mrs. Corbin delivers some excellent advice, not for open parlor reading, but good, wholesome suggestions that will make sensible people admit that she is a philosopher of the right sort. Altogether she writes like an earnest, practical Christian woman, who sees in that strange emotion we call love a purer impulse than French philosophy would teach, a stronger, more vital passion than sickly sentimentalists confess. — *N. A Collection of Pieces to Speak for Home and School By EMMA LEE BENEDICT Boards 50 cents

Children have been time without number condemned to learn and to recite verses whose meaning they were not of an age to understand, and which wearied them to excess; and many a young victim is still sighing under the burden of pieces which refuse to find any foothold in his memory. Therefore it is a pleasure to recommend for use so charmingly useful a book as this of Miss Benedict's. Strange Sights Abroad; or, Adventures in European Waters

Is the fourth volume in the first series of "All-Over-the-World" Series. In this volume the author takes his yachting party to the Azores, lets them call at Madeira, climb the peak of Teneriffe, and gets them into a perilous situation in Morocco. This is a genuine story of the sea, an element in which the author is perfectly at home. The story is full of interest, and while it will thoroughly entertain its young readers, it will also give them useful information regarding the countries visited. A new book by Olivor Optic is always received with delight by his army of juvenile readers, and this will not be an exception to the rule. — Boston Gazette.

The Fortunes of Toby Trafford

By J. T. TROWBRIDGE. Cloth. 26 Full-page Illustrations $1.25

If there be a man who understands the New England boy down to the ground it is J. T. Trowbridge. In all his portraitures of boys it is evident that he remembers the days of his own youth. "The fortunes of Tobby Trafford" is the picture of the sturdy boy who, obliged to carve out his own fortune, has both the courage and the resources necessary. He is not frightened by danger or discouraged by misfortune. Toby is a downright good boy without being in the least a molly-coddle, and doesn't know what a sentiment is, though possessed of a very clear idea of right and wrong. After many stirring episodes and cruel disappointments, he at last attains to the proud position of captain of a little steamer, a happy conclusion that will not come to every boy, though every boy as plucky as Toby will surely attain to something good. — Springfield Republican.

FINE ILLUSTRATED BOOKS

SUMMERLAND.

By Margaret McDonald Pullman. With 63 original illustrations engraved and printed under the direction of George T. Andrew. Size 4½ x 12½ inches. Oblong quarto. Artistic cover of two colored cloths, beautifully ornamented. Full Gilt, $3.75. Turkey morocco, $9.00. Tree Calf, $10.00. English Seal Style, $7.00.

In her preface to "Summerland," Margaret McDonald Pullman says: "I want this gallery of pictures to tell you of hills in sunshine; meadows with perfumed air; the brook fringed with flowering grasses and cool, quiet reflections; the winding path that suggests the cottage life just over the hills; the healing breath of the pine woods; white sands washed by the waves of the sea, blue with Heaven's own reflection; lengthening shadows, day done; and quiet over all." Beautiful designs of the artist, including some thirty full-page landscapes of great variety, and as many more vignettes, are all engraved on wood and printed under the direction of George T. Andrew. The publishers have done their best to make the book attractive in excellent paper and chaste, unique and beautiful binding. — Buffalo Commercial.

IN A FAIR COUNTRY

With 55 full-page Illustrations by Irene E. Jerome. Engraved on wood, and printed under the direction of Mr. Andrew, with nearly one hundred pages of text by Thomas Wentworth Higginson. Bound in Gold Cloth, gilt edges, $6; Turkey morocco, $15; Tree calf, $15; English seal style, $10.

Over the clear-cut thoughts of a modern master of classic essay, one of the foremost of American artists draws the magic pencil which has achieved so many triumphs, and starts into life the rural beauties of "Outdoor Papers." Whether floating in her boat on Concord River, with its wealth of floral adornments, its scenic surprises in the windings of its stream in and about places made famous by Thoreau and Emerson, or in her loftier flights amid the hills of "beautiful Camden" down by the sea, where the grandeur of mountain views possesses charms to wake enthusiasm, she has exhibited the same fidelity to nature in her beautiful pictures, the same exquisite taste in the selection of her subjects, which have characterized her previous achievements.

GRANDFATHER GREY

Poem by Kate Tannatt Woods. Illustrations by Charles Copeland. Elegantly printed on fine cut paper. Bound in two colors, cloth, full gilt, $2.00. English Seal Style, $3.50.

"A companion to Grandmother Grey, that pretty love poem of "ye olden tyme" that sprang into instant favoritism a year ago. There is the same charming simplicity of style and beauty of thought. It is an idyl of old New England, told with exquisite faithfulness by both pen and pencil. The artist has caught the spirit that breathes from the lines, and pictured those quaint scenes of wooing and merriment with delicacy and power. Even the hush in the schoolroom and the hum of the lazy summer day outside, seems real to us. Fair and winsome is the face bent modestly before the parson in the simple wedding scene; years after, it shows traces of life's bitterness as well as sweetness, as she sits by the open window, looking out across the meadows. We can almost see the shadows on the wall of the evening spelling-school bob merrily up and down in the flickering candlelight, and the twlilight deepen on those two old graves in the church-yard."

THE WOOING OF GRANDMOTHER GREY

Poem by Kate Tannatt Woods. Illustrations by Popular Artists. Engraved and printed under the direction of Mr. Andrew. Oblong quarto. Twenty-four Illustrations. Cloth, full gilt and gilt edges, $2. English Seal Style, $3.50.

"The poem and pictures together combine to form the sweetest and most touchingly effective things we have seen for a long time. The reminiscences of Grandmother Grey stand out in a form strongly real, and the old, old story gains new beauty from her dear old face, and the sweet, lingering accents of her tender words. Love had kept her heart warm and young, and the intensity of youthful emotion and the calm, reflective thought of maturer years blend into an ideal harmony that permeates the whole story. The author has told her story in a manner charming beyond expression, and its outspoken beauty does honor to her latent powers."

DAYS SERENE

Original Illustrations by MARGARET MACDONALD PULLMAN. Engraved on Wood by Geo. T. Andrew, and printed under his direction. Royal oblong quarto. Emblematic cover designs in colors. Thirty full-page original Illustrations. Full Gilt. Size, 10½ x 14½. Cloth, $5; Turkey morocco, $12.50; Tree calf, $12.50; English seal style, $9.

"The most beautifully effective holiday volume it has thus far been our pleasure to see is entitled 'Days Serene.' The volume, of a large size, is handsomely bound, with leaves of heavy, cream-tinted paper, while all of the work is beautifully done. An ineffable spirit of calm and peace broods over it all, and we feel we are a part of it ourselves, so plaintively do the trees reach out to shake hands with us; while the flowers nod familiarly, the birds fly away from us or look down saucily from some neighboring twig, and the bees busily seek their tributes from the flowers and heed us not. There is an individuality, a master hand and an understanding of Nature suggested in every stroke of the brush, and the volume is really an artistic delight." — Boston Times.

NATURE'S HALLELUJAH

By IRENE E. JEROME. Presented in a series of nearly fifty full-page illustrations (9½ x 14 inches), engraved on wood by George T. Andrew. Bound in gold cloth, full gilt, gilt edges, $6.00; Turkey morroco, $15.00; tree calf, $15.00; English seal style, $10.00.

"The book is a work of art set in gold; a sermon from nature to arrest the attention and impress the mind with the love of God. Choice verses are scattered among the exquisite sketches. One of the best literary features of the work is the introduction from the artist's own pen. There are nearly a hundred large full-page sketches of birds and flowers, children and landscapes, — all beautiful, some quaint, with here and there a delicate bit of humor thrown in, and quaint conceits and dainty bits of pretty suggestiveness sparkling all the way through. — The Living Church.

FROM AN OLD LOVE LETTER.

Designed and illuminated by Irene E. Jerome. Antique Covers tied with silk. Boxed, $1.00.

This is Miss Jerome's sixth volume and it is a delicately illuminated book after the style of the old illuminated missals. The book consists of a series of quotations from the New Testament on the subject of love. There is a charming fitness between the text and the decorative borders in gold and colors. Some of the designs consist of floral traceries, which in some cases contain variously colored birds and butterflies. The cover is printed on rich antique paper and is tied with silk floss, secured to the cover by a seal. Altogether it is a gem of art and will be highly appreciated as a holiday gift for both young and old. — Decorator and Furnisher.

ONE YEAR'S SKETCH BOOK

By Irene E. Jerome. An Original Series of Illustrations from Nature, comprising forty-six full-page Pictures (9½ x 14 inches) of great power and beauty, engraved on wood by Geo. T. Andrew, in the best manner. The volume is bound in gold cloth, full gilt, gilt edges, $6.00; Turkey morocco, $15.00; tree calf, $15.00; English seal style, $10.00.

Above in four parts, Spring, Summer, Autumn, Winter, Palatine Boards, $1.50 per volume.

"It is 'Nature's Art Gallery'— a whole year — spring, summer, autumn, winter, are exquisitely represented by drawings of landscape, flowers, birds, woodland scenes, etc. Each page contains one of these illustrations, executed in the finest wood engraving, on paper of the most delicate texture and tint, and each has a fitting verse or line describing it, by some well-known poet. The conception of such a book could only have originated in the mind of an artist, and a master-hand could only have carried it out. The publishers have used their utmost skill in producing this volume, making it an elegant gift." — Christian Observer.

"THE MESSAGE OF THE BLUEBIRD, Told to Me to Tell to Others"

An Illustrated Souvenir. By Irene E. Jerome. Engraved on Wood, under the direction of George T. Andrew.

Eight full-page illustrations, wood-cuts, printed on plated paper, are enclosed in covers of Palatine Board, Gold Title, and tied with ribbon, neatly packed in an attractive box. $1.00. Cloth, Blue and White, $2.00.

A BUNCH OF VIOLETS

By Irene E. Jerome. Original Illustrations, engraved on wood and printed under the direction of George T. Andrew. Quarto. Elegantly bound in gold cloth, full gilt, gilt edged, $3.75; English seal style, $7.00; full Turkey morocco, $9.00; tree calf, $9.00; Palatine style, $2.

In this volume Miss Jerome has collected poetry relating to the exquisite little flower so dear to the lover of country scenes. The illustrations form a procession of violet-decked scenes from the first picture of a little girl with a basket of the blossoms, to the last page where a child is weeping because spring has departed and every violet is gone. Miss Jerome spends the summers in outdoor studies of art, now in New England and again in Colorado. Her series of Christmas books are charming. — Commercial Gazette.

BABY'S KINGDOM.

Wherein may be chronicled as memories for grown-up days, the Mother's Story of the Progress of the Baby. Designed and illustrated by Annie F. Cox, a new and elegant edition. Oblong Quarto. Blue and white cloth, full gold cloth, $3.75; Turkey morocco, $9.00.

This is a gift-book for mother and baby. As is fitting it is bound and bordered with gold, for mother and baby are the loveliest and dearest treasures of man. PLASTIC SKETCHES. By J. G. and J. F. Low, the famous tile artists, being a series of designs, making forty-seven original photogravures, 10 x 12 inches, in satin portfolio. Price $15.00.

"This house has recently issued an Art Work, which is unique in the field of art literature, and is one of the handsomest, most tasteful, and most liberal publications of the season. We refer to 'Plastic Sketches,' a veritable portfolio, consisting of a series of Albertype pictures reproduced from the famous Chelsea tile-pictures first given to the world about six years ago by Messrs J. G. and J. F. Low, of Chelsea, Mass. By aid of the camera, wonderful copies of these tiles have been made, so natural in appearance that he who delightedly turns the pages of this magnificent work cannot easily dispossess himself of the fancy that they stand from the paper in actual relief. This work is destined to become famous everywhere, and among all people, art students, designers, and lovers of the beautiful of all classes."—Philadelphia Item.

ELIJAH KELLOGG.

"Mr. Kellogg never wrote a dull story. His tales are adorned with noble thoughts and sublime teachings, that, while the story secures the attention and fully entertains the reader, excite the boy, all unconsciously, to strive to be a good man. We recommend his works, above all others, to parents who are purchasing reading for their boys."—Nashua Telegraph.

"There is a manliness of tone in Elijah Kellogg's books for boys that we like very much. His heroes are not those whom the death of some rich and distant relative, or a sudden turn of fortune's wheel, makes rich and influential. They hew out their own fortune, struggling honestly with difficulties, and rising by means of them to a higher manhood."—Chicago Standard.

LEE AND SHEPARD'S HANDBOOKS

HANDBOOK OF BLUNDERS

Designed to prevent 1,000 common Blunders in writing and speaking By HARLAN H. BALLARD, A. M., Principal of Lenox Academy, Lenox, Mass. 50 cents.

"If he who corrects one blunder in the use of the English language deserves well, how much does he deserve who corrects a thousand?"—Book Notes.

"The habit of accurate and grammatical speech is one that deserves to be a good deal more assiduously cultivated than it is. So easy is it to fall into colloquialisms, and current inaccuracies, that few, we fancy, will turn over the pages of this little handbook without finding some weakness of their own in the use of English exposed. The volume will be worth its slight cost several times over to any one who will study and heed its suggestions."—Boston Journal.

UNIVERSAL PHONOGRAPHY

Or, Short-hand by the "Allen Method." A self-instructor, whereby more speed than long hand writing is gained at the first lesson, and additional speed at each subsequent lesson By G. G. ALLEN, Principal of the Allen Stenographic Institute, Boston. 50 cents.

☞ There is scarcely any requirement so helpful to the student, scholar, scientist, or professional man, as short-hand writing. Heretofore, all methods have required so long a time before one could become so proficient as to make it of any advantage, that men in middle life, or busy men, have not been able to give the time to learn it; but, by the "Allen Method," one can almost in "the idle moments of a busy life," certainly in an hour a day for two or three months, become so expert as to report a lecture verbatim.

HANDBOOK OF LIGHT GYMNASTICS

By LUCY B. HUNT, Instructor in Gymnastics at Smith (Female) College, Northampton, Mass. 50 cents.

"This manual is admirably adapted for the use of teachers and pupils in public and private schools, and in seminaries and colleges, as well as a guide to health-giving exercises in the homes, especially for girls. Well-arranged series of exercises are given in free gymnastics, wand exercises, ring exercises, dumb-bells, procession, mutual-help exercises, bean-bags, marching, and a practical chapter on dress suitable for gymnastic exercises to be taken in. All these exercises have been carefully selected and thoroughly tested, and can be safely practised by any person in ordinary health."—Journal of Education.

THE HUNTER'S HANDBOOK

Containing lists of provisions and camp paraphernalia, and hints on the fire, cooking utensils, etc.; with approved receipts for camp cookery. By "AN OLD HUNTER." 50 cents.

If you are going into camp during the summer or fall, this little work will give you many hints for comfort and convenience not to be found elsewhere.

PRACTICAL BOAT-SAILING

By DOUGLAS FRAZAR. $1.00. With numerous Diagrams and Illustrations.

"Its directions are so plain, that, with the aid of the accompanying pictorial illustrations and diagrams given in the book, it does seem as if 'anybody' after reading it could safely handle a sailboat in a squall."—Times, Hartford.

HANDBOOK OF WOOD ENGRAVING

With practical instructions in the art for persons wishing to learn without an instructor. Containing a description of tools and apparatus used, and explaining the manner of engraving the various classes of work; also, a history of the art from its origin to the present time. By WILLIAM A. EMERSON, Wood Engraver. New edition. Illustrated. $1.00.

HANDBOOK OF PUNCTUATION

And other Typographical Matters For the Use of Printers, Authors, Teachers, and Scholars By MARSHALL T. BIGELOW, Corrector at the University Press, Cambridge, Mass. 50 cents.

"There is no work that requires more careful training, or a greater number of rare qualifications, than proof-reading.

"Mr. Bigelow's book is a practical treatment of the subject, and enlarges the reading-public's obligations to him."—Atlantic Monthly.

NATURAL HISTORY PLAYS

Dialogues and Recitations for School Exhibitions By LOUISA P. HOPKINS, author of "Handbook of the Earth," etc. Boards, 30 cents net.

The contents of this book comprise dialogues and movement-plays among the bears, the beavers, the squirrels, and many other animals, which have been successfully used by pupils from seven to twelve years of age.

They are designed for concerts or part-recitation and reading, and many of them involve action. The movement-plays are to be carried out by characteristic motions accompanying the text, as may be indicated by the teacher, or suggested by the spontaneous action of the pupils, in imitation of the natural movements of the animals represented, and after the manner of the Kindergarten plays, as prescribed by Froebel.

THE STARS AND THE EARTH

Or, Thoughts upon Space, Time, and Eternity. With an Introduction by THOMAS HILL, D. D., LL. D., late President of Harvard University. 50 cents.

"It is poetic in its suggestions, and leaves the impression that nature gives the cue to things hidden and mysterious. There is no dogmatic conclusion, and yet the dogmas of omnipresence and omniscience are elucidated by it. In less than one hundred pages is much and deep philosophy."—Boston Commonwealth.

HANDBOOK OF CONVERSATION

Its Faults and its Graces Compiled by ANDREW P. PEABODY, D. D., LL. D. Comprising: (1) Dr. PEABODY'S Address, (2) Mr. TRENCH'S Lecture, (3) Mr. PARRY GWYNNE'S "A Word to the Wise; or, Hints on the Current Improprieties of Expression in Reading and Writing," (4) Mistakes and Improprieties in Reading and Writing Corrected. 50 cents.

"A book which will be of incalculable value to the young man or woman who will carefully note and follow out its numerous and valuable suggestions. It is worth owning, and ought to be studied by many who heedlessly misuse their mother tongue." — Boston Beacon.

This compact little volume contains about 40,000 synonymous words, printed in clear, distinct type.

"Clearly printed and well arranged, it is adapted to help any one who writes much, to enrich his vocabulary, vary his expressions, and secure accuracy in conveying his thought."— Boston Journal.

THE TELEPHONE

An Account of the Phenonena of Electricity, Magnetism, and Sound, as involved in its Action; with Directions for making a Speaking Telephone By Prof. A. E. DOLBEAR, of Tufts College. Illustrated. 50 cents.

"An interesting little book upon this most fascinating subject, which is treated in a very clear and methodical way. First we have a thorough review of the discoveries in electricity, then of magnetism, then of those in the study of sound, — pitch, velocity, timbre, tone, resonance, sympathetic vibrations, etc. From these the telephone is reached and by them in a measure explained." — Hartford Courant.

FORGOTTEN MEANINGS

Or, An Hour with a Dictionary By ALFRED WAITES, author of "The Historical Student's Manual." 50 cents.

"A valuable little book, embracing a collection of words whose etymology, when rightly understood, is full of instruction. WATER ANALYSIS

A Handbook for Water Drinkers By G. L. AUSTIN, M. D. 50 cents.

LESSONS ON MANNERS

By EDITH E. WIGGIN. 50 cents.

"A neat little manual, written on a very much neglected subject. It systemizes as well as simplifies the subject, and will prove suggestive to both parents and teachers, while its lessons will commend themselves to the learner. Nor is the book any the worse for its wholesome moral trend." — Herald and Presbyter.

BROKEN ENGLISH

A Frenchman's Struggle with the English Language. Interesting as a narrative, instructive as a handbook of French conversation By Professor E. C. DUBOIS. 50 cents.

"A decidedly amusing as well as instructive narrative, showing the trials and vexations a foreigner must endure in learning our language. The idea of the author in thus presenting the two languages in dialogue form was a happy one, and will be as good a study for the Yankee as the Frenchman. The two languages are presented on alternate pages line for line, and create equal interest." — San Jose Mercury.

SHORT STUDIES OF AMERICAN AUTHORS

By THOMAS WENTWORTH HIGGINSON. 50 cents.

"Colonel Higginson is an author, essayist, critic, and historian of marked ability, but in none of his works does he appear to greater advantage than in these graceful and documentary sketches. We strongly doubt that any more elegant and appreciative tributes to the genius of Hawthorne, Poe, or Thoreau were ever written than the delightful papers by the author of 'An Oldport Romance,' and 'Army Life in a Black Regiment.'" — Kingston Freeman.

How to Catch and How to Prepare Them for the Cabinet Comprising a Manual of Instruction for the Field-Naturalist By WALTER P. MANTON. Illustrated. 50 cents.

"An invaluable little manual for an active lad, or indeed for anybody with limber joints and a taste for out-of-door amusements is Manton's "Insects." It tells what outfit the amateur bug-hunter should supply himself with, how he should treat his specimens when he captures them, and what he must do with them when he gets them home in order to preserve them in his cabinet. It is so beautifully written and illustrated that it makes the reviewer crave to lay hands on a net once more and sally forth into the fields." — Syracuse Herald.

FIELD BOTANY

A Handbook for the Collector Containing Instructions for Gathering and Preserving Plants, and the Formation of a Herbarium. Also, complete instructions in Leaf Photography, Plant Printing, and the Skeletonizing of Leaves By WALTER P. MANTON. Illustrated. 50 cents.

"This is a handy little volume for those who are starting on the examination of the wonderful life the microscope reveals. It instructs in the art of using the instrument, and shows how objects can be prepared for examination. Its simplicity is very valuable, and the young student will receive hints which will lead the way to the use of larger treatises. We commend it heartily to those who are beginning to study closely God's works in the world of nature." — Christian Intelligencer.

WHAT IS TO BE DONE

A Handbook for the Nursery, with Useful Hints for Children and Adults By ROBERT B. DIXON, M. D., Surgeon of the Fifth Massachusetts Infantry; Physician to the Boston Dispensary. 50 cents.

Dr. Dixon, in this little "Emergency Handbook," gives simple directions what to do in a number of the most common cases that arise, either in home treatment of slight accidents or indispositions, or in the case of patients in more serious cases, until the arrival of the physician. The book is worth its weight in gold, and ought to have a place in every family library." — Providence Press.

EXERCISES FOR THE IMPROVEMENT OF THE SENSES

For Young Children By HORACE GRANT Edited by Willard Small. 50 cents.

He takes up 'sight reading and writing in connection with primary and intermediate schools,' and discusses every feature of the subject in such a plain and forcible way, giving more than a thousand valuable hints, that the work is not only attractive to the general reader, but of incalculable value to the professional educator. — Nashua Telegraph.

FIVE-MINUTE DECLAMATIONS

For School and College Selected and adapted by WALTER K. FOBES, Teacher of Elocution and Public Reader, author of "Elocution Simplified," etc. 50 cents.

"Each comprise one hundred selections, not one of which requires over five minutes in declaiming. The selections are made from orations, speeches, and sermons with fine judgment, and with an eye to bringing out feeling, passion, fire, etc. Each selection has been subjected to the test of reading aloud, and is a declamation in the proper sense of the term." — Home Journal.

FIVE-MINUTE DECLAMATIONS

Second Part. For School and College. By WALTER K. FOBES, author of "Five-Minute Recitations," "Five-Minute Readings," "Elocution Simplified," etc. Cloth, 50 cents.

"This is a little book gotten up for use in schools and colleges. Any of the selections can be recited in five minutes, and in this respect the book is unique. The compiler is one whose long experience in teaching has caused him to know what are best liked by students, and what will cause them to put forth their best efforts." — Toledo Blade.

FIVE-MINUTE RECITATIONS

For School and College Selected and adapted by WALTER K. FOBES, Elocutionist and Public Reader. 50 cents.

"The title of this book explains itself. Any selection in it can be recited in five minutes, and in this respect it is unique. Mr. Fobes's experience has enabled him to make the book a valuable collection of prose and poetry, which every schoolboy would do well to purchase. It must meet with hearty public approval." — New Bedford Standard.

FIVE-MINUTE READINGS

For Young Ladies Edited by WALTER K. FOBES Uniform with "Five-Minute Declamations" and "Five-Minute Recitations." 50 cents.

"This volume evinces general reading and good taste in the author. It differs from some of its class in that many of the selections are from modern authors. We do not see why readings that are suitable for girls should not, generally, be adapted to boys also. Yet the title is a good 'catch.' The selections are among the most chaste and elegant in the language." — Journal and Messenger.

EDUCATIONAL PSYCHOLOGY

A Treatise for Parents and Educators By LOUISA PARSONS HOPKINS, author of "Handbook of the Earth," "Natural History Plays," etc. 50 cents.

"'Educational Psychology,' by Mrs. Louisa Parsons Hopkins, is the digest of a course of lectures given to the normal class of the Swain Free School in New Bedford, and is the result of long and attentive observation of mental phenomena and development, careful reading, and original thought. It is a compact volume, giving in condensed form a great amount of valuable matter. There is increasing call for works of this kind; and one so sound, clear, and complete as 'Educational Psychology' will be cordially welcomed by parents and teachers." — Cambridge Tribune.

THE NATION IN A NUTSHELL

A Rapid Outline of American History. By GEORGE MAKEPEACE TOWLE, author of "Young People's History of England," "Young People's History of Ireland," etc. 50 cents.

"It begins with an account of the earliest known or supposed inhabitants of our continent; treats briefly but clearly of the eras of colonization and colonial growth; describes the causes and rise of the Revolution, the formation of the Constitution and government, the Presidents, the wars of 1812 and Mexico, and the Civil War; and brings the record of events down to the present day. It has also chapters on our growth in literature, the arts and sciences, material interests and inventions, and on the political changes which have taken place in recent years. It is intended for such readers as desire, by a rapid glance, to survey the main features and landmarks of American history, and who have not the time to peruse the more comprehensible histories." — New Bedford Mercury.

MISTAKES IN WRITING ENGLISH AND HOW TO AVOID THEM

For the Use of all who teach, write, or speak the Language By MARSHALL T. BIGELOW, Author of "Punctuation and other Typographical Matters." 50 cents.

"This is one of the most practical and systematic books in its kind that has as yet appeared. It is particularly commendable in avoiding the chance arrangement of matter which has so confusingly characterized other guides devoted to the same subject. Here everything is set forth in proper order, and reference is aided by the admirable grouping of the various sources error under appropriate headings. This little volume will be found a serviceable friend on the library table of every writer." — Sat. Evening Gazette.

WARRINGTON'S MANUAL

Handbook of Legislative Practice for the Guidance of Public Meetings By WM. S. ROBINSON ("Warrington"). 50 cents.

Mr. Robinson was for a long series of years the Clerk of the Massachusetts House of Representatives, and was an authority on parliamentary law and tactics during that time. This manual will be found of inestimable value to all presiding officers, either of the ward and town meeting or the legislative assembly.

WHIRLWINDS, CYCLONES, AND TORNADOES

By WILLIAM MORRIS DAVI Instructor in Harvard College. Illustrated. 50 cents.

"The best general view of the science in the English language." — Nation.

"The substance of this treatise formed the basis of a course of lectures at Lowell Institute last year. Cuts, diagrams, and charts illustrate the text; and the whole subject, which recent calamities have made so intensely interesting to us of the United States, is treated very lucidly on the basis of facts, and of the best and latest scientific speculation." — Buffalo Express.

BRIDGE DISASTERS IN AMERICA

The Cause and the Remedy By Prof. George L. Vose. Author of "Manual for Railroad Engineers and Engineering Students." etc., etc. 50 cents.

"How to ensure the safety of bridges and to prevent loss of life by those who pass over them, surely ought to be a question of most vital interest, and Prof. Vose's thorough knowledge of the subject enables him to give a practical solution of the problem. It is a book that should be carefully read by all and especially by those who are in any way responsible for the maintenance or construction of bridges. He demonstrates that bridges can be constructed in such manner as to prevent the disasters which are repeatedly occurring, and that ignorance, shortsightedness and criminal negligence are alone responsible for the large loss of life in recent years on account of faultily constructed bridges."—Springfield Union.

HINTS ON WRITING AND SPEECH-MAKING

By Thomas Wentworth Higginson. Author of "Young Folks' History of United States," "Atlantic Essays," "Oldport Days," "Short Studies from American Authors." 50 cents.

The following from the author's Preface shows the purpose of this volume: —

"The first of these two chapters appeared long since in the 'Atlantic Monthly,' and was afterwards included in the author's volume entitled Atlantic Essays.' Teachers have several times urged that it should be reprinted as a little manual of literary composition; and I have indeed seen it used for that purpose in a college classroom. Now that similar suggestions are beginning to come in respecting the other brief essay, 'Hints on Speech-making,' it has seemed well to present the two together in a small volume. The last-named paper appeared first in 'Harper's Magazine' for November, 1886; and it is here reprinted with the consent of the publishers."

A FEW THOUGHTS FOR A YOUNG MAN

By Horace Mann. A new edition. 50 cents.

"This volume is full of the wisest counsel, given in very attractive and winning language, which is embellished with sparkling wit and interesting anecdote. It is a rare little book, by an eminent author, and is worthy of a place in every household. The treatise has been so often sought after by the general public, that it is again republished in its original form. The late Mrs. Mann, who wrote the preface to her husband's book, says, 'Nothing the author ever wrote has been so universally popular.'"

HANDBOOK OF DEBATE

Including a debate upon the Character of Julius Caesar. Adapted from J. Sheridan Knowles. Arranged for practice in Speaking, for Debating Clubs, and Classes in Public and Private Schools. With Notes for the Forming and Guidance of Debating Societies, and a list of subjects for debate. 50 cents.

"This work may be considered a model worthy to be adopted for use in societies and clubs organized to cultivate powers of elocution and oratory, and to teach the art of skilful debate, the knowledge of which enables the possessor to wield great influence in public and deliberative assemblies. As a ready handbook for debating societies' use it is unequalled."

ENGLISH SYNONYMS DISCRIMINATED

By Richard Whately, D. D., Archbishop of Dublin. A new edition. 50 cents.

While especially adapted to the use of writers and those who desire to express themselves in exact and discriminating terms, this book will be of interest to every one who may wish to gain more precision in the use of our language. In compiling this valuable work, the accomplished author has departed from the customary methods, and has not contented himself with giving merely the apparent synonyms in the language, but elaborates on the nice distinction in the meaning of common words, usually considered synonymous terms. In this feature consists the especial importance of Dr. Whately's volume.

PRIMARY LESSONS IN ZOÖLOGY TEACHING

For Teachers in Common Schools. By Walter P. Manton, M. D., F. R. M. S., F. Z. S. Author of "Field Botany," "Insects," "Taxidermy." Beginnings with the Microscope. 50 cents.

This work is full of suggestions to teachers as to topics and methods in presenting this subject to beginners. It contains nine essays, full of valuable practical ideas for teachers. The subjects treated are: equipment; general characteristics of an animal; the bones; the muscles; the blood; respiration digestion; the brain and nerves. The author has wisely disregarded the exact order of the scientist, realizing that he has to interest beginners and teach them to observe. His directions are clear and simple, and in the hands of a good teacher the plan he outlines would be eminently inspiring.
